PORTUGAL RECALLS ENVOYS TO SPAIN

Relations Broken With Leftists as Hitler Recognizes Italy's Ethiopian Victory; Madrid Prepares for Bitter Air Raid

LISBON, Portugal, Oct. 24.—(UP)—Portugal, closely aligned with Fascist Italy and Nazi Germany in the Spanish civil war crisis, broke diplomatic relations with the Spanish left front government today.

The government, openly antagonistic to the leftists from the beginning of its belief—like that of Italy and Germany—that Spain has headed toward Communism, ordered its charge d'affaires and embassy personnel to embark at Alicante for Lisbon.

ROME, Oct. 24.—(UP)—Nazi German, in a gesture of friendship that constituted also a warning to all Europe, recognized formally Fascist Italy's conquest of Ethiopia today.

League is Flouted

Fuehrer Adolf Hitler, in conference at Berchtesgaden in Bavaria with Count Galeazzo Ciano, Italian foreign minister and Premier Benito Mussolini's son-in-law, announced the recognition, flouting the League of Nations and those great powers which opposed so long and so vainly Il Duce's war on Italy's fellow league member, Ethiopia.

Hitler's action was announced here just as Ciano arrived at Berchtesgaden across the Alps.

PARIS, Oct. 24.—(UP)—Premier Leon Blum ordered the air ministry today to send planes to Madrid to repatriate a group of Argentine refugees there.

PARIS, Oct. 24.—(UP)—Unconfirmed reports through Paris today that a Russian merchant fleet laden with arms and munitions for the Spanish left front government left Black Sea ports for Spain today.

MADRID, Oct. 24.—(UP)—Madrid braced itself today for a merciless air raid. All railroad service was suspended. Normal activity was all but paralyzed. The capital's million-odd people, gazed anxiously at the sky, and attuned their ears for the dreaded sound of planes.

BRICKER SCORES HIGHWAY OFFICE AS "POLITICAL"

CLEVELAND, Oct. 24 — (UP) — A sharp attack on administration of the state highway department was made by Attorney General John W. Bricker, Republican nominee for governor, in a radio address here today.

Bricker promised, if elected, "to demobilize the army of political hangers-on in that (the highway) department."

"After next January it shall no longer be necessary to get in touch with a political boss in some hotel room or outside office in order to do business with the state highway department," Bricker said.

He charged the present administration with "ignoring" an act of the present legislature providing for transfer of five thousand miles of county roads to the state highway system.

The attorney general also said he had evidence that official correspondence of the highway department contained an appeal for subscriptions to "The Ohioan," Democratic newspaper.

FATHER STRIKES CHILD

NEW YORK, Oct. 24 — (UP)—A father his 2-year-old baby daughter over the head with a bottle early today, because she disturbed his sleep, and attacked his mother-in-law who tried to defend the infant.

GRAHAM SAYS PUMPKIN SHOW CLOSURES AT 12

The Pumpkin Show will close promptly at 12 midnight, Mayor W. J. Graham announced Saturday noon.

He informed all police officers to notify concession stands and shows about the ruling.

TRUCKER FACES GRILLING AFTER FATAL ACCIDENT

John Smith, of Logan, W. Va., was taken to Franklin county early Saturday by deputy sheriffs to face investigation after a fatal accident one south of Columbus.

Smith, arrested near Chillicothe by members of the state highway patrol attending the Pumpkin show, admitted parking his truck without warning lights.

Clark Garren, 20, of Columbus, was fatally injured when the automobile in which he was riding with Homer Hall, Columbus, struck the truck.

Mary L. Riley, 515 Boyd street, Lancaster, suffered minor cuts and bruises Friday night when struck by an automobile on Court street between Pinckney and Main.

Officers said the car, traveling south, was driven by Frank Mansfield, 370 E. Main street, Chillicothe. The woman was treated at Berger hospital.

THRONG ATTACKS SPEAKER, WRECKS RADIO STATION

EL CENTRO, Calif., Oct. 24.—(UP)—A mob took the action Esco L. Richardson, communist candidate for congress, feared peace officers would take when he spoke over a radio station here.

Two hundred men last night wrecked radio station KKO, beat up Richardson, then dragged him to a train bound for San Diego. When Richardson, mauled and bruised, left El Centro, his speaking engagement cut short, the city's directors of peace, chief of police J. Sterling Oswald and Sheriff Robert W. Ware, still were in Los Angeles. A few hours earlier a federal judge had ruled they "could keep the peace as they see fit," when communist orators come to their city.

FATHER OF HUEY LONG SUPPORTS THE PRESIDENT

WINNFIELD, La., Oct. 24 — (UP) — Huey P. Long, father of the late senator whose violent antipathy for President Roosevelt and the New Deal formed the basis of the last phase of his political career, endorsed President Roosevelt for re-election today.

Long telegraphed Gov. Richard W. Leche, head of the Long faction which succeeded to the assassination of Kingfish's Louisiana dictatorship, that he thought the president was "three times as much in favor of the platform as advocated by Huey P. Long as Landon."

DR. ROUTZAHN TREATS "SAMMY" FOR AILMENT

Dr. C. P. Routzahn, W. Main street, has taken on a new line of work. He gave Sammy, famous educated ape, a treatment Friday afternoon, and was scared almost to death during the work. That is Routzahn was, not the ape. Sammy had a minor ailment and his owners thought something should be done about it. Dr. Routzahn was called. Sammy put his arm about Routzahn's shoulders and seemed perfectly contented during the work.

MRS. ALSAUGH, 81, DIES

Funeral services will be Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the residence near Ashville for Mrs. Elizabeth Ella Alsaugh, 81, who died Friday.

To Visit for Duce?

ACCORDING TO RELIABLE sources, the Countess Ciano, wife of the Italian foreign minister and daughter of Premier Benito Mussolini, will visit the United States this winter. Observers point out her visit may have something to do with Ciano being given the position of Italian ambassador to Washington, as has been reported. Mussolini is eager for the friendship of the United States. He is said to be disturbed by rising anti-Fascist sentiment in America. Rumor has it that he is grooming Count Ciano to be his successor. The countess is shown above in a recent picture.

COURT PREPARES TO GIVE DIVORCE TO KING'S FRIEND

IPSWICH, England, Oct. 24 — (UP)—Mr. Justice Hawke, of the King's bench division of the High Courts, opened today the Suffolk assizes at which he is expected to divorce Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson, American friend of King Edward, from Ernest A. Simpson.

Mrs. Simpson was reported to be in hiding 10 minutes' automobile distance from the court house, at a rambling country bungalow owned by—Mr. Simpson, ready to give testimony as to her marriage, and to leave the witness stand for two witnesses to testify that Simpson was unfaithful to her.

King Edward planned to weekend at his country place near London, Fort Belvedere, tending his roses and perhaps golfing a bit. He had dinner last night with his mother, Queen Mary, at her new residence, Marlborough House.

THEFTS AND LOST PURSES REPORTED TO CITY POLICE

Two thefts and two lost purses were reported to police Saturday. J. Vincent, of Milwaukee, employed at the Motordrome, reported two sample cases and a kit of machinist tools stolen.

Mrs. W. M. Reid, E. Union street, said six hens disappeared from her poultry house.

Budd McManis, of Washington C. H., Route 3, told police his purse containing checks and $42 in cash was lost Friday.

G. Robinson lost a purse containing $18 in cash.

PASTORS VISIT MAYOR

A delegation of local pastors held a conference with Mayor W. J. Graham Saturday morning protesting the dancing shows here in connection with the Pumpkin Show. Mayor Graham said he assured the pastors the shows would be properly supervised and explained they had been inspected and approved by state fair officials.

INDUSTRIAL, BABY AND COMIC PARADES PROVE SUCCESSFUL AS FRIDAY'S SHOW FEATURES

Children Number 143 Enter Event Despite Inclement Weather; Esmeralda Company and Ed Schreiner Victorious, Too

Three of the major parades of the Pumpkin Show took place Friday with large entries in all classes.

The float of the Circleville Chamber of Commerce won first prize of $75 in the Industrial parade. The Esmeralda Canning Co. was second and E. A. Schreiner Shoe Repairing was third. The second and third prizes were $50 and $25, respectively.

The baby parade and show and comic and characterization completed the day's processions.

YOUTH ADMITS STEALING GEMS FROM MOTHER

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 24.—(UP)—A youth who said he was William Nilrot, 20, Brooklyn, N. Y., was arrested by police today and $100,000 worth of diamonds found in his possession.

Police said the youth confessed that he took the diamonds and $3,500 in cash from his mother's safe last fall.

GERMANY OPENS ECONOMIC DRIVE ON SOVIET PLAN

BERLIN, Oct. 24.—(UP)—Germany embarked today on a gigantic plan of economic building similar to that of its "number one enemy," Soviet Russia.

Hermann Goering, World War aviator and Adolf Hitler's closest friend, virtual dictator of Germany's economic life, issued a decree outlining his plan, first announced at the recent Nazi congress.

The Reich's "four year plan" is strikingly similar to the "five year plan" carried out by Russia. Both were designed to lift their countries onto a much higher and more self-sufficient economic plane. Observers, however, noted this difference: Russia started from virtually nothing. Germany can build on the foundation of one of the world's best industrial structures. The Reich, however, has been accustomed to import many raw materials which it now plans to produce at home—or at least substitutes for them.

G. O. P. WOMEN TO HONOR WIFE OF CANDIDATE

Republican women are invited to attend a tea to be given in honor of Mrs. John W. Bricker and wives of other state officials Wednesday, Oct. 28, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Renick W. Dunlap, Pickaway township.

The hours will be from 2 to 5 o'clock.

Republicans will hold a rally in the Memorial hall next Wednesday at 8 p. m. The speaker will be Judge Thomas J. Norton, of national headquarters, an authority on constitutional law.

Carpenter Brothers Lose Bout to City's Officers

William and Ray Carpenter, Lancaster wrestlers, lost a bout Friday night with city police. The Carpenters created a disturbance in a downtown restaurant and were lodged in the city jail. No charges had been filed against them Saturday morning. Seven men, sobered up over night in the city jail, were ordered out of town Saturday morning. Police said they had no arrests Friday from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m.

GRAHAM ORDERS POLITICAL SIGNS OUT OF PARADE

An automobile, carrying large placards for the Democratic party and sponsored by the Democratic Club, was ordered to stay out of the remainder of the Pumpkin Show parades Friday after appearing in the Industrial pageant.

The order was issued by Mayor W. J. Graham, as president of the show society. Mr. Graham said there has been an understanding in the society for many years that politics was not to be a part of the show or parades. "I instructed the police to notify the party entering the car and the parade chairman that it was not to be in any more parades," the mayor said.

The huge signs, showing a large rooster crowing, were mounted on the automobile of L. T. Shaner. They were painted by Lee Smith, Kingston pike.

Mr. Shaner said he received the mayor's order Friday evening and considered it very unfair. "Republicans had the same chance to enter," he said, "but they did not take advantage of it."

ROBINSON HITS SMITH, OTHERS "FINICKY FIVE"

JOPLIN, Mo., Oct. 24 — (UP)—Sen. Joseph T. Robinson, D. Ark., last night assailed five former Democrats whom he accused of "betraying the party of Thomas Jefferson."

He named as the "finicky five" who are supporting Gov. Alf M. Landon as former U. S. Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, former Secretary of State Bainbridge Colby, Henry Breckenridge, former Governor Joseph Ely of Massachusetts and Alfred E. Smith.

The severest punishment which could befall the five self-styled "Jeffersonian Democrats" would be the election of Gov. Landon, the senate majority leader said.

"It may be that they shall receive some special reward for their betrayal of the party of Jefferson," Robinson said. "But what reward would be great enough to compensate them for betraying the party of Thomas Jefferson?"

WILLIAM TIGNER, ILL YEAR, DIES EARLY SATURDAY

William Tigner, 57, a native of Hocking county, died Saturday at 4:30 a. m. at his home in Logan street. He had been ill a year.

The funeral will be held Monday at 2:30 p. m. at the home of his son, Mack, Weldon avenue. Burial will be in Forest cemetery by M. S. Rinehart.

Mr. Tigner is survived by his widow, Mary Smith Tigner; two daughters, Mrs. Mildred Speakman of Elmwood and Mrs. Laura McKittrick of Monroe township, and another son, Gill, of Circleville.

KRINN REPORTS BUSINESS DOWN ON SECOND DAY

Thursday's business in the Pumpkin Show was far below that on the second day last year.

T. D. Krinn said Saturday morning 3,891 persons went on rides and 3,332 attended shows on Thursday. Last year there were 8,539 on rides and 6,066 in shows.

An all-day rain caused the slump in business.

$25,000 SOUGHT AS RESULT OF AUTO COLLISION

Samuel W. and Lulu Nichols, Route 2, Plain City, filed suits in common pleas court Friday against Russell Jones, of Tarilton, asking a total of $25,000 damages. The suits are based on an automobile collision Aug. 27, 1936 on Route 56 about five miles from Circleville. Mr. Nichols asks $10,000 and Mrs. Nichols, $15,000 for personal injuries. Both charge they were permanently injured.

PERFECT SKIES GREET THRONGS ON FINAL DAY

Society Believes Expenses Will Be Made If Sun Continues to Shine

VISITORS ARRIVE EARLY

Old Vehicle Parade to Move at 7:15

The thirty-third annual Pumpkin Show comes to a conclusion at midnight Saturday, and from all indications the greatest crowd of visitors in recent years will gather in Circleville tonight.

The weather, inclement enough to cause the Thursday show to be almost a total loss, was perfect for the final day's events. The temperature hovered in the vicinity of 50 degrees; a bright sun was shining, and the holiday spirit prevailed generally.

Sun Brings Smiles

Show officials were happy when the sun broke through the clouds early in the morning. They saw a steady stream of nickles and duties falling into the tills of the various rides and concessions; they saw, also, a chance to break even in their investments which goes into the thousand-figure.

Wednesday's opener was profitable, but Thursday was a wash-out. Friday, though the sky was overcast and showers fell intermittently, attracted a great crowd. Saturday promises to break all records. Hundreds of persons were inspecting the interesting displays early in the day. By noon a large crowd was in the city, and by 2 o'clock when the pet parade was ready to move, the streets were filled with interested show visitors.

Parade at 7:15

The old vehicle parade, always interesting, is booked at 7:15 this evening and at 8 o'clock the horse show will be completed on the Southern Ohio Electric Co. field. The horse show is the finest ever held in Circleville, officials believe. Seating is available for horse show enthusiasts.

Friday's parades were splendid with the music of the two school bands, the Legion drum corps, the Stoutsville school band, and the Adelphi band helping add the carnival spirit to the festivities.

The crowds were so dense that parades in afternoon and evening became separated.

There will be no fireworks display Saturday night.

CANADA READY TO STEP INTO "BABY DERBY"

TORONTO, Oct. 24 — (UP) — Prime Minister Mitchell F. Hepburn threatened today to intervene in Toronto's $750,000 baby derby which he called "the most revolting, disgusting exhibition ever put on in a civilized country."

Aside from that aspect of the race, started 10 years ago by Charles Vance Millar, eccentric lawyer, who left his fortune to the mother having the most babies before midnight, Oct. 31, 1936, Premier Hepburn said something had to be done to keep "a host of lawyers" from getting the money.

"It is the government's duty to end this fiasco," Hepburn said. "If the government does not take action soon litigation will drag the case through the courts and even to the privy council. When the court fights end there will be no money left for these poor mothers and their babies. Undoubtedly the government will take some action to stop such litigation," he said.

PLANE NEARS HOME

ABOARD CHINA CLIPPER, enroute to Alameda, Cal., Oct. 24 — (UP)—The China Clipper neared the California coast early today, bringing Miss Dorothy Kilgallen and Leo Kieran back to the United States on a round-the-world race and completing a "survey" flight conducted for a group of press association writers.

How is Senator Borah Getting on in Campaign?

Idaho Expects Him to Be Re-Elected Even Though State Is Likely to Go for Roosevelt

Senator Borah who, supporters say, will be re-elected to the U. S. senate, after 30 years.

BOISE, Ida., Oct. 23.—Senator William E. Borah is "singing the same old song"—monopolies, foreign relations and monetary principles—in his campaign, which today appears certain to re-elect him to the U. S. senate seat he has held for over 30 years.

Borah is proud of that song and with it has challenged the Republican party. He told a Union party rally in Boise that candidates meant nothing to him. It "did not concern him for whom he spoke" and that he "would speak under anybody's auspices, regardless of party lines."

To a certain extent, Borah is backing the New Deal program of relief spending. He is opposed to a return to the gold standard and promises Idaho, rich in silver, he will advocate a stronger position for silver.

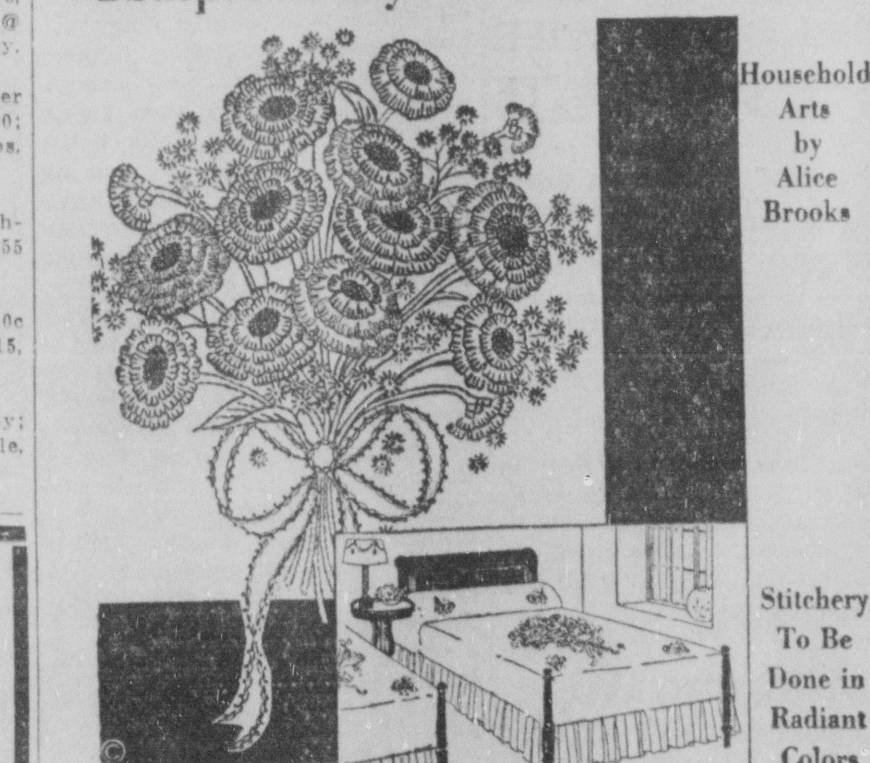

Against Monopolies
Borah also promises support of a program against monopolies.

"They say monopolies are not a national issue" Borah recently declared. "If you don't believe monopolies are a national issue, then cross eastern financial interests, tramp on their toes and you'll soon find out. Monopolies must go. If God gives me strength, I hope to see the day when monopolies are overpowered."

The day after that declaration, Borah announced he was "going after the Republican party" just as the G. O. P. was going after him. From now on, he said, his campaign was a matter of national issues and his battle, as usual, was for those issues which he believed were "for the good of my people."

Townend Support
Recent endorsement, in principle, of the Townsend plan brought immediate support of the Union party and Townsends in Idaho. A similar endorsement of the Townsend plan by his Democratic opponent, Gov. C. Ben Ross, brought consternation on the part of the Union party leaders. The Registration of delegates begins Friday at 10:00 A. M. on the Mezzanine floor of the Neil House.

The formal opening is scheduled for 2:00 P. M. in the Junior ball-room. Major Norman Imue, noted lecturer and newspaperman, will make the principal address of the afternoon.

Friday evening there will be a banquet in the Neil House ballroom with a dance following the dinner speech by Jack Raper, editorial writer and columnist for the Cleveland Press.

Discussions and round table work will take place on Saturday morning under the supervision of T. W. Piercy, advisor of The Record, Western Reserve Academy. Talks on many interesting journalistic subjects are planned for this session.

The registration fee is one dollar-fifty cents for each person and it will include all convention activities and also a ticket to the Ohio State-Chicago football game Saturday afternoon.

All delegates have been invited to take an inspection tour of The Dispatch plant and offices conducted by special guides.

Several journalism students from Circleville high school are planning to attend it and it is hoped that a large number will have the opportunity to go and hear the helpful program.

ZAENGLEIN HAS PROJECTS OPEN

C. F. Zaenglein, instructor of manual training at Circleville high school, has announced that the students are working on various projects.

The seventh grade has just finished a short course in instruction on the care and use of tools and will soon start an elementary course in drawing the plans on projects to be made.

A course in lettering has been completed by the eighth grade which is now ready to start drawings for this year's work.

The freshmen will devote the first semester to mechanical drawing.

Active shop work has been started by the sophomores since the completion of the project drawings.

The advanced students are making cedar chests, modernistic desks, twin beds, and sewing cabinets, a spinet desk, a corner china cabinet, and a row boat.

For the first time rural students are offered the opportunity to make farm projects. Many of them are now working on hog houses.

GIRL RESERVES TO VISIT CHURCH

In accordance to the custom of past years the Junior Girl Reserves voted at their meeting Tuesday at 3:00 to attend the various churches of the city.

The group decided that they would attend the churches according to the number of members belonging to the church in descending order.

The churches which are to be attended are in order: Methodist Episcopal, Lutheran, United Brethren, Evangelical, Catholic, St. Phillips Episcopal, Presbyterian, Church of Christ, and the Second Baptist.

Regina Thornton, chairman of the devotional committee, is in charge of seating.

A program was given in charge of Marilyn Lutz. This program consisted of a discussion of the Girl Reserve Purpose which is "To Find and Give the Best" and the Girl Reserve Slogan, "To Face Life Squarely."

BEGINS NEW SUBJECT
The eighth grade spelling workbooks titled "My Word Books" by Breed and Seale have arrived. This will be the first year in which the grade has studied spelling as a separate subject.

DEBATE CLUB
The debate club meeting for Tuesday evening was postponed until next week.

Harry D. Kraft (A Tribute)

A face that had grown to be familiar and welcome, no longer greets us. There has gone from the halls of our five schools a presence that we wished, could such things be, might have been one of us, always.

That Mr. Kraft's days with us were numbered has for some months been taken for granted by the many who loved him.

In Mr. Kraft's schools of Circleville for some twenty odd years have possessed an attendance officer in whom were combined two qualities: a stern attitude towards his oftentimes unpleasant duties, and a sympathetic heart. These two qualities in a sense oppose each other, and hence are not too often found in the same person. For this reason among others, Mr. Kraft's position will not be an easy one to fill.

Mr. Kraft possessed a sense of the fitness of things. He had his first time to overstay in a busy office the purpose of his coming there. In one of his age, this has been a remarkable fact. That he was conscientious, too, and rigidly honest goes without saying.

Than he who is gone, Nature never gave to Circleville a finer gentleman.

STUDENTS JOIN DEDICATION AT DELAWARE HIGH

At the dedication ceremony of Delaware's new stadium on October 17, Circleville was represented by four members of the senior class, Dorothy Avis, Charlotte Cook, Jessie Dresbach, Jean Lucas and Miss Elma Rains.

A representative committee was sent from each member of the Central Buckeye League—Bexley, Circleville, Delaware, Grandview, Marysville and Westerville.

These representatives marched through Delaware in a parade which ended in the newly constructed Community Field and Stadium. After the formal presentation of the field took place the three bands—Delaware, Marysville and Wesleyan—accompanied the student body as it sang Delaware's school song.

The Delaware-Marysville football game followed.

At the "half" the school flags of each school in the Central Buckeye League were presented to the Delaware class officers. These flags were then placed at the rear of the field where they remained for the rest of the game.

The result of the game was—Delaware—6, Marysville—0. Recently Circleville's game with Marysville scheduled for October 24 was postponed.

PLAN MADE FOR TWO GLEE CLUBS

The Boys' and Girls' Glee clubs, under the direction of Miss Marjorie Priest, are enthusiastically preparing for several programs in the near future.

The Boys' Glee club is working diligently on many of the season's current popular songs such as, "A Star Fell Out of Heaven," "Until the Real Thing Comes Along," "When I'm With You," "Empty Saddles," "Rendezvous With a Dream," "I Can't Escape From You." They plan to present an interesting program of this music for the last football pep meeting in November.

The Girls' Glee club is practicing now to present a chapel program late in November. For this program they are practicing the numbers, "Will I Remember," "The World is Waiting For the Sunrise" and "The Chinese Lullaby."

Next week the girls begin work on some Christmas music, elaborate plans are being laid now for the Christmas Cantata to be presented shortly before school is dismissed for the holidays.

Both the Boys' and Girls' Glee clubs show marked improvement and continue to take a decided interest in the well selected music.

JOURNALISM CLASS HAS TEA
At an informal tea on Monday afternoon at 3 p. m., the Journalism class of Circleville high school honored its newly elected editor-in-chief, Ruth Robinson, and her assistant editor, Marjorie Leach.

The members of the class are: William Ammer, Dorothy Avis, Ruth Clark, Eleanor Dresbach, Jessie Dresbach, Emily Gunning, Mary Hays, Marjorie Leach, Mary Ellen Maxey, Adabelle May, Mary Newmyer, Ruth Robinson, Helen Sayre, Mary Jane Schiear, and Benedine Yates.

Miss Pigman, Mrs. Downing and Mrs. Howard B. Moore were guests of the class at the tea.

The class plans to have a tea each month in honor of the newly elected editor.

LETTER HANDED TO PRINCIPAL BY RAILROAD AGENT

The following letter was received from Mr. A. W. Osborn, agent for the Norfolk and Western Railway Company, by Mr. Reger and deemed of such importance as to have it printed in its entirety for all to read:

"A very dangerous practice on the part of some of the school children has been observed and steps should be taken to warn them of the danger and to stop trespassing on railroad property.

"Several boys practice 'cutting across lots' which brings them on to the Norfolk & Western tracks between the passenger sheds and Pickaway St. and the noon hour brings them in close time to that of our passenger train due at the station.

"It has been reported these run headlong onto the tracks without regard to the approaching train, and on two occasions one of them fell on the track and had to be helped off by his companions.

"Another exceedingly dangerous practice is for children (and others) to cross the tracks immediately behind the rear car in train they may be waiting for to clear the crossing, and a train may be approaching from the opposite direction on the other track.

"At crossings where no watchman is maintained, we have installed for safety wig-wag signals which ring a bell and show a red light at the approach of trains, and if the school children will walk just a little farther to cross the tracks at these crossings and obey the warnings for their safety, it may save a limb or life.

"They should be warned not to cross behind the passing train until the wig-wag signals have cleared behind the train, or until they can see sufficient distance ahead to be sure that a train or motor car is not approaching."

JITNEY LUNCHESS ARRANGED BY GIRL RESERVES

Tuesday at the Senior Girl Reserve meeting the girls discussed a program for a school assembly which the club will sponsor. A committee composed of Mary Newmyer, Wahnetta Barnhart, Mary Crites, Harriet Harmon, Harriet McGath and Ruth Robinson was appointed to be in charge of the program.

It was decided by the club to accept the proposal of the Junior Girl Reserves to form an alliance with them and to jointly buy the (Y. W. C. A.) Bookshelf and Woman's Press books which both clubs will use. These books will be of great service to the advisors of the groups and to the girls who are in charge of the programs during the year.

A jitney lunch was planned which will be served in the high school building on Wednesday noon, November the eighteenth.

Mary Jane Schiear, Jean Cryde and Betty Colville were put in charge of the publicity for the luncheon. The food committee is comprised of Rosemary Metzger, Dorothy Walters, Benadine Yates and Eleanor Pearce. They will be assisted by Kathleen Green, Helen Sayre, Mary Ellen Maxey and Marjorie Leach who were appointed to serve on the clean-up committee.

When the business meeting reached a conclusion, Harriet McGath gave a very interesting and instructive talk on her stay at the Girl Reserve Camp Wildwood. She was sent as a delegate from the Senior Girl Reserves.

A member of the local chapter is sent each year to learn new ideas and suggestions which the girls realize will benefit their club.

YOUTH'S DIVISION OF COUNTY CHURCH ORGANIZATION ARRANGES PROGRAM

Mrs. Reber Leader of Huge Group

Monthly Meetings Fixed as Executive Board Conducts Confab

The executive committee of the Youth's division of the Pickaway county church organization met at the home of its leader, Mrs. Homer Reber, Walnut township. Present were Judson Lanman, Forrest Brown and Miss Mary Ruth Tolbert.

The work for the year was planned with monthly meetings arranged. Chairmen were appointed to organize these meetings. Judging from the many activities which have been scheduled, a very interesting year lies ahead for those who participate, since all of the county people of every church denomination are members of the organization.

It is hoped that many will take part in these meetings. The year's work will include social meetings, a drama, a county orchestra, a county choir, debating, trips to other churches, and various other programs.

The first meeting will be a box social in November, the date to be announced later.

The officers this year are president, Judson Lanman, Walnut township; vice president, Forrest Brown, Pickaway township; secretary, Mary Ellen Kirkpatrick, Circleville, and treasurer, Carl Anderson, Pickaway township.

DELEGATES OF TRINITY CHURCH TO JOIN CONFAB

The fourth biennial convention of the Women's Missionary society of the American Lutheran church will take place next week, Oct. 27-29, at Trinity Lutheran church, Columbus, corner of Third and Fulton streets.

Trinity church is the oldest and largest of the 24 American Lutheran churches of the capital city. The Von Bora society is sending as its voting delegate, Mrs. Mary K. Bower. The Ladies' society is sending Mrs. Charles Diehlman and Mrs. Elmer Wolf as its official delegates. Mrs. Bower is thank-offering chairman of the Ohio group.

Many Circleville women will attend.

Christianity as Love

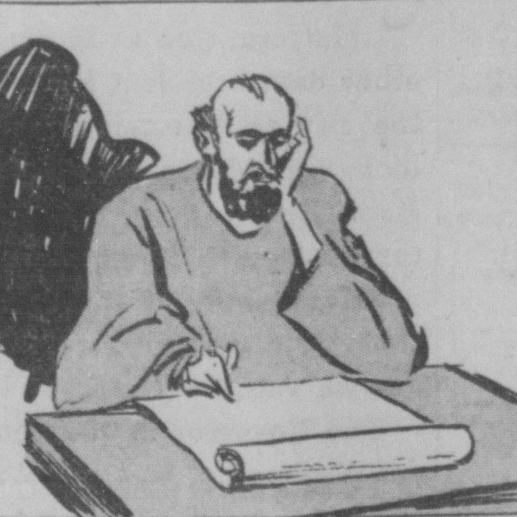

Christian love drew Paul to the home of Aquilla and Priscilla in Corinth where they worked together as tentmakers while Paul preached the gospel to the people.

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Scripture—Acts 18:1-17; I Cor. 13:1-13.

Paul was discouraged and ready to quit Corinth when the Lord Jesus came by night in a vision to Paul, saying, "Be not afraid, I am with thee, and I have much people in this city."

Paul spent a year and a half in Corinth. Later he wrote to leaders there. They were quarreling over whose work was most important in the church. Paul told them love was the greatest of all gifts.

Without love eloquence is mere noise, knowledge and faith are profitless and even sacrifice meaningless. Love will outlive all other gifts. (GOLDEN TEXT—I Cor. 13:13.)

I Corinthians 13:13—"Now abideth faith, hope, love, these three; and the greatest of these is love."

Christianity as Love
"BRASS TACKS" ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Oct. 25 is Acts 18:1-17 and I Corinthians 13:1-13, the Golden Text being I Corinthians 13:13, "Now abideth faith, hope, love, these three; and the greatest of these is love.")

IF IT IS true that "God is love", it is especially true that religion is the expression of love towards God and towards our neighbor. "Love is the fulfilling of the law." But God's love is the source: "We love because he first loved us."

Love of Friends Strengthens
It was Christian love that drew Paul to Aquilla and Priscilla his fellow tentmakers after unloving race prejudice drove them out of Rome and Paul found them in Corinth. They worked together at their trade as a means of support while Paul preached the gospel to all whom he could reach with it. It was Christian love and the encouragement of the loving fellowship which gave new power to Paul's ministry after Silas and Timothy came down from Macedonia and joined Paul at Corinth. Thus love between friends does more than increase their respective talents by addition, it multiplies each by all the others and then some!

Christ's Love Encourages
But in an hour of despondency over the exceeding wickedness of Corinth and the immensity of the task of evangelizing such a city, Paul was overwhelmed with fears for his own safety and the futility of continuing his mission in Corinth, when the Lord Jesus appeared to him in a vision saying, "Be not afraid, but speak and hold not thy peace: for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to harm thee: for I have much people in this city." It was the love of Christ not only for his servant Paul but for the great throngs of lost souls in Corinth that brought Paul this heavenly Visitor and the vision of a great task yet to be done. And this "love of Christ constrained" Paul to "dwell there a year and six months, teaching the word of God among them" and

BELGIUM STANDS ALONE

SINCE 1914, when the German armies swung across the Belgian frontier in the hope of following the path of least resistance to the French channel ports, the alliance between France and Belgium has been one born of common peril and continued in the interests of mutual security. Its termination is one of the most surprising developments in a European situation which seems to hold limitless capacity for the production of disturbing crises.

King Leopold's explanation of Belgium's severance of a tie that has bound his country to a traditional friend is clear without, however, being illuminating as to basic causes. He says that Belgium prefers henceforth to stand alone, to emulate the "proud example" of Holland and Switzerland. To this end the Government will strengthen the country's military defenses, extend the period of service and strive in other ways for increased security.

But what is the real reason for the new isolation from France? Why is Belgium determined to stand alone and to reject the potential help in time of crisis that would come from an alliance with a strong neighbor? The answer lies in the growing tendency of France to follow the political ideals of Russia and to establish increasingly strong military and commercial relations with the Soviet Government. For many reasons, principally those of religion, Belgium is hostile to Moscow.

King Leopold's abandonment of the French alliance is a heavy blow to France because it makes her position additionally precarious from a military viewpoint and gives comfort to Germany, reflecting as it does the strong pro-German sentiment long known to flourish in Belgium.

DULL SKIES

THE human mind is subtly affected by cloudy skies. When the storms of winter come, people are apt to feel less hopeful. Some travelling salesmen remark that they can never sell much goods on a cloudy or stormy day. People seem to lack confidence.

The storms of winter may not seem necessary for our refreshment, but if it were not for them, our water supplies would run dry, and our rivers would not turn their power wheels.

The wise philosopher is not much affected by weather. All kinds of skies look good to him. The artist eye sees beauty even when the sky is obscured by clouds. Sunshine is a wonderful thing, but if we had it every day, we should lose all sense of its beauty.

'ROUND CIRCLEVILLE . . Hour by Hour

PAGES from the Diary of an Antiquated Reporter:

Up to a regular London morning, one of the pea soup kind with visibility down to zero and automobile traffic slowed to a walk. Deserted streets at a early hour in great contrast to that milling Pumpkin Show throng of the night before. Where do they all come from? And how deserted we will feel for a time when it is all over.

Among the visitors and guests of this scrivener L. S. Galvin, publisher of the Lima News, and his advertising director, Charles B. Hinkle. Roy Galvin, outstanding among all the nation's publishers, writing as Oh Oh Jackenrim, originated this type of newspaper column and for many years his department in the Lima News has been the leading feature of that publication. The local 'Round Circleville is a direct theft of his style, but with his knowledge and consent.

Few are the nations of the world that Jackenrim has not visited and most of the world famous celebrations he has attended. Yet in Circleville at our own Pumpkin Show he found pleasure greater than elsewhere, for in his own words that big gathering of Friday night was constituted of "my kind of people." Jackenrim was born and reared in south central Ohio and his personal liking leans toward the district folk. "A fine town and a fine celebration" was the verdict of a distinguished visitor who has been almost everywhere and has seen almost everything. That is real praise.

For the information of the few persons who were not in the village Friday night and who might doubt the attendance record, attention is called to the fact that one big parade was completely lost in the throng for almost half an hour and was found and "rescued" only after a special detail of a half dozen policemen

Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round
By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN
AMITY OF HORNER AIDS FDR
CHICAGO—Making a five-minute back platform stop at Bloomington, Ill., the other day, President Roosevelt referred to the city as "Bloomington." The crowd took the mistake good-naturedly, but J. Ham Lewis, ever the gallant Senator, turned to Mrs. Roosevelt and remarked: "How clever of the President to make that little inadvertence and line up the Jewish vote for Governor Horner."

The Governor in question, a very colorful personality, was with the President on his train. And the truth is that Horner probably can line up about as many Illinois votes for Roosevelt as Roosevelt can for Horner.

THREE JACKS

In fact, upon the personalities of three prominent Democrats—Horner, Nash and Kelly—hinges the outcome of the election in Illinois.

Heretofore they have battled bitterly. At present they appear to be united for the purpose of returning Franklin Roosevelt to the White House. For a time, however, it was doubtful whether even that would unite them.

Henry Horner is Jewish, born Levy, took his mother's name after his parents separated, is just as popular with Illinois business men as Roosevelt is unpopular.

With 98,000 families on relief in Cook County alone, he balanced the budget. He is a bachelor, has a library of Lincolniana famous throughout the state, also a collection of Thomas Nast cartoons, and has battled as vigorously against Kelly-Nash bossism in Chicago as Nast did against New York's famous Boss Tweed.

BERTIE AND FRANK

Colonel Robert McCormick of the Chicago Tribune, and vice-presidential candidate Colonel Frank Knox of the Chicago Daily News have been business rivals for years. They have even battled over setting all the clocks of Chicago ahead one hour to Eastern Standard Time so the News, an evening paper, could not print Wall Street stock closings in its last editions. This means increased circulation for the morning Tribune.

But suddenly they buried the hatchet and became as brothers, in order to make war on Roosevelt.

And for a time their war was most effective. They ousted corrupt and discredited Republican leaders. They started five Republican caravans touring every part of the state. They spent money hand over fist.

Result was that shortly before Roosevelt made his recent trip across Illinois, Democratic chances, once at high pitch, were low. It looked like a fifty-fifty proposition.

PRO-ROOSEVELT SWING

Recently, however, Roosevelt's stock has soared. There are three reasons. One is that Governor Horner and the Kelly-Nash machine have listened to Jim Farley. Not only have they buried the hatchet, but they seem to be working in genuine harmony.

Second is the effect Roosevelt had on his recent trip. There is no question that he won a lot of votes.

Corrector Corrected on Foods' Water Content

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

A COLUMNIST, who describes himself as a philosopher, wrote in his column in a Cleveland newspaper:

"The Doctor Is in Error. The largest part of any food is water. Dr. Logan Clendening's syndicate article. "Frank Walling sends me a long list of the water content of various foods. The very highest percentage of water is found in bananas, 48.9 per cent. At the other extreme we have walnuts, 1 per cent; almonds 2.7 per cent. None of the 25 food articles listed has as high as 50 per cent water. "The doctor should have looked the subject up in the 'Encyclopedia Britannica.'"

Philosopher One to Look

I am afraid that Frank Walling and the philosopher are the ones who should have looked it up in the "Encyclopedia Britannica." I find a list there which shows that beef is about 60 per cent water, veal 60 per cent, mutton 51 per cent, ham 48 per cent, eggs 65 per cent, salmon 63 per cent, oysters 88 per cent, whole milk 87 per cent, cabbage 77 per cent, apples 94 per cent, tomatoes 55 per cent, strawberries 85 per cent. From Carter's "Nutrition and Clinical Dietetics" I find in the table of food values the following evidences of foods which have a fairly high percentage of water: bran 80 per cent, chicken, light meat, 70 per cent; codfish 82 per cent, black bass 76 per cent, haddock 81 per cent, bread 36 per cent, asparagus 91 per cent, string beans, fresh as purchased, 83 per cent; carrots, 88 per cent, cauliflower 92 per cent, onions 91 per cent, potatoes 78 per cent, pumpkin 93 per cent, etc.

The only foods which are very low in water content are such dried foods as the following: oatmeal, uncooked, 7 per cent; rice 12 per cent, entire wheat flour 11 per cent, crackers about 5 per cent, pretzels 9 per cent, cookies and cakes on the average of about 12 per cent, candy, which has no water, dried vegetables and nuts.

If it were not for this high water content of our foods we would have a terrible time digesting them, especially in the first process of digestion, mastication in the mouth, and would be compelled to drink much more water with our meals than we do.

Also I wish the philosopher would spell my name right.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Seven pamphlets by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

CHAPTER 29

"TELEPHONE for you, Bill," the 10-year-old "clerk" of the William Boyd & Son Hardware and Implement company, announced as he stuck his head in the door of the shop at the back of the store.

Bill wiped his greasy hands on worn overalls and put down a screw driver.

"Who is it?" he asked and gave a regretful glance at the gadgets on the work bench and another at the clock.

"Dorcas, I guess."

Bill followed him through the store into the office. You wouldn't know, looking around that office with its two rolled-topped desks, the old-fashioned swivel chairs, and the litter of catalogs, that it was the office of business men who rated their solid wealth at nearly a million dollars.

Bill picked up the receiver. There were no French telephones in Bairdsdale.

"Hello," he said.

"Bill, I hope I didn't call you away from something important." "It's okay, Dorcas. I was going to call you anyway. How'd you like to see Joe Brown at the movies tonight?"

It was Wednesday night. Bill always called Dorcas Hill on Wednesdays. Wednesdays and Sundays were "beau nights" in Bairdsdale.

"Were you?" she said as pleased as though she hadn't expected it. "I've got something else in mind. Nell Chatterton and Bob, Catherine Fox and Herb were trying to get up a bridge game tonight but I thought it would be fun to get a steak and drive down to the lake and cook it. It will be a grand night. There's a full harvest moon, Bill."

"Boy! That big, red moon! I haven't seen one in a whole year. Remember the moon last year?"

"Last year?" He couldn't see Dorcas Hill's happy smile. "Wasn't that the night I met you?"

"Woman, it was! If some guy had left a red light burning on his truck, I wouldn't have run into it. If I hadn't run into it and jammed my hand I wouldn't have gone to the hospital and if I hadn't . . ."

" . . . if you hadn't gone to the hospital and I hadn't been waiting for dad to finish up an operation we wouldn't have met."

"Aha, your memory isn't as bad as you thought."

"How about tonight?"

"Great! It'll be a sort of anniversary."

"Bill, if you're not too busy late this afternoon, can you knock off and help me? I've got to do the shopping and dad's got the car."

It was after two. Bill calculated. "What time will you need your chauffeur, madam?"

"Around four?"

"A little later, Dorcas," Bill's eye wandered to a square white envelope on his desk. "I've got an errand to do and then I'll come over."

"All right, Bill, I'll be waiting."

That last statement was like Dorcas Hill—cheerful, unquestioning, undemanding, waiting.

Bill swung the telephone arm out of his way and picked up the square white envelope. He slipped the sheet of paper covered with neat backhand writing out of the envelope. There was a fragrance that came with it.

A fragrance that made him think of soft, honey-colored hair, of eyes dark as the blue of night skies, of something restless, hurt in a fragile girl of whom he always had been very fond.

He lit a battered pipe and, drawing on it slowly, he read and reread her letter. He was trying to see, not the words which were clear enough, but something back of them that he did not understand.

The poor kid! Trying to be brave and light when she was seeking escape from something. Alix hadn't fooled Bill Boyd.

He remembered the first time he had seen her with tears streaming down her little-girl face, hair ribbon dangling, crying her heart out because her jeering audience of small, savage boys wouldn't rescue a kitten in a tree. Bill hadn't wanted to rescue it because he was small and savage, too, then. But he had. And he'd punched a couple of noses because their owners had jeered at him saying, "Bill, Boyd's Allie's beau!" Nevertheless he had gone off blushing a healthy red.

He'd always thought of himself as Alix's beau from then on for a good many years. Even for a year or two after she'd gone to New York. Lovely, story book Alix who would forever be the lady in distress to him.

He removed his sturdy boots from the desk and went to the safe, taking a small book from a locked compartment.

He studied the rows of figures for a while, pondered thoughtfully and drew on his pipe. Alix didn't have anyone in the world. She didn't have a comfortable home to come back to, folk who were sympathetic.

By golly, she did!

He pulled the telephone to him and asked the operator for a number.

"Hello, Mae? . . . let me talk to Miss Alexander. . . . Hello Mae? This is Bill."

There was pleasure in Mae Alexander's voice, "Hello, Bill! I'm glad you called me. I wanted to tell you I'll be able to pay you something this month. Mrs. Tru-bee bought that highboy I picked up. . . ."

"Don't worry about that, Mae. I'm not disturbed about that note. I want to ask you to do a favor for me. A big favor and I want it to be just between you and me."

"Why, sure, Bill. I owe you

Complaining Witness Jailed

TOLEDO (UP)—Arthur Pantazopolis, of Cambridge, Mass., told police he lost $112 in a dice game. Police arrested the three men he named as winners of his money, then released them on bond. Pantazopolis, however, couldn't provide a bond, so he was jailed to assure his presence as a complaining witness.

WILLING TO WAIT

Jones was a shoemaker. By dint of hard saving he had managed to send his son Billy to a good school. One afternoon Billy came into the shop.

"Father," he demanded, "I want $1.25 to go to the movie."

"What!" cried Jones. "Do you realize that I've got to sole and heel three pairs of shoes to make $1.25?"

Billy sat down comfortably in a chair.

"All right, father," he said. "I'll wait."

The enthusiasm of the usual attenders at the Great Pumpkin Show at Circleville has been somewhat dampened this year by the gloomy weather but many have found their way to Pickaway's capital each day and many have remained until late in the night. It takes more than bad weather to keep our people away from this big event.

The Parent-Teacher Association will meet Monday evening at the school building. The band will play, the 5th and 6th grades will furnish vocal music and G. D. McDowell, superintendent of the Pickaway county schools will speak.

The program will start at eight o'clock. Everyone is invited and an opportunity will be given to meet the new teachers.

Stylish Skirts Are Short, Hats High Your Frock May Be Flared Vivaciously or Trim and Pencil Slim to Hug the Figure

Verdigris green wool suit, with distinctively marked baronduki revers, brown felt hat, brown kidskin tongue oxfords.

By LISBETH

Short skirts and high hats are the order of the day. Your skirt may be very short and flared if you are young and slim, or pencil slim, with slits at the side for ease in walking. Or the flare or the straight slimmest may both be modified if you have passed that very slender stage.

If you can't wear a hat that has a tall crown, at least you can add a tall bit of trimming to give that "high hat" look. Some of the perky bows, and especially quills, that trim feminine headgear will undoubtedly cause some discomfort and possibly tears to escorts who are just the right height to get them in their eyes; but after all, what's a poke in the face between friends? One must suffer somewhat if the girl friend is to be

Coronation Influence

Schiaparelli's "crown" hat, influenced, doubtless, by the coming British coronation, is shown here in fine brown felt, and the tongue oxfords are of brown kidskin. The pull-on gloves are, of course, brown.

Talk about going high hat! Look at the feather trimming on the smart little chapeau on the lady in the center of our picture. Moulded contours and swinging skirts were triumphs of the recent Paris openings. This crepe frock, of a new shade of blue called spruce, combines both silhouettes. The bodice is neatly fitted, with a soft plastron edged with pleating, repeated again at the hem of the fluidly graceful skirt.

Stitched black kidskin sandals are distinguished for their simplicity and formal air. The tiny black felt hats bursts skyward with its towering blue feather. A home, Thursday. Mrs. Mettel is a niece of Mrs. Imler.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Herb and Mrs. Ida Edwards, of Lithopolis, were the Pumpkin Show guests of Miss Josephine Bartley, E. Main street, Friday. Mrs. Edwards, was librarian for several years at Wagnall's Memorial.

Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Butt and son Charles, and Mrs. Elizabeth Cummins, all of Nelsonville, are the Pumpkin Show guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Hammel, N. Court street. Mrs. Butt is a sister, and Mrs. Cummins a sister-in-law of Mrs. Hammel.

Mrs. Charles Reichelderfer, son Charles and daughters, Mrs. Ruth Pickens, and Misses Marie and Anne Reichelderfer, all of Columbus, visited at the home of Mrs. Ira Reichelderfer, N. Court street, Friday, and attended the Pumpkin Show.

Miss Marie Kellstadt and cousin, Miss Betty Killilea, and friend, of the Directoire period suggested the interesting back treatment given the costume suit. Verdigris green wool is crisply handled in the slim dress, which is tricked out with patch pockets and a bow-trimmed collar. The jacket is well fitted, with revers of distinctively marked baronduki.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Imler, E. Main street, has as her house guests for the Pumpkin Show, Mr. and Mrs. John McNeil and daughter, Frances, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Albert, all of Columbus, and Mrs. Mary Mettel, of Cleveland. Frank Faulk and Mrs. I. F. Haynes, of Columbus, visited at the Imler brooch clasps the neck of the dress.

Grape Shades Chic
Vintage shades give richness and interest to the autumn mode. Grape-purple ribbed crepe makes the frock at the right, spiced by Burgundy red suede piping and suede belt. A clever band conceals the fact that the dress buttons conveniently down the front, while the broad shoulders and flare-front skirt are further points of distinction.

Burgundy antelope makes the French revolutionary cap, and the smart round-toed Regent pumps are of Burgundy kidskin.

An interesting little style whimsy is that strings of gold beads are being worn with woolen frocks. Page those mother wore a couple of decades back!

MAPLE NUT ICE CREAM

One pint of milk
One-half cup granulated sugar
One-half cup brown sugar
One-eighth teaspoon salt
Two teaspoons cornstarch
Two eggs
One-half pint whipping cream
One-half cup pecans
One teaspoon vanilla
One-fourth teaspoon mapleine

Make a custard with milk, sugar, egg yolks, cornstarch and salt. Let cool. Whip the cream, fold into custard. Beat egg whites until stiff and cut the pecans into small pieces and add to the egg whites with the flavoring. Pour into freezing tray and freeze in refrigerator. Does not require stirring.

CRANBERRY SALAD

Cook one quart of cranberries in three and one-half cups of water for thirty minutes. Soak two tablespoons of gelatin in one-half cup of cold water. Strain the cranberry mixture over it and stir until dissolved. Add two tablespoons of sugar (or more if you prefer). Let stand until cold, then add one cup of chopped nut meats, one cup of diced pineapple and one cup of seeded white grapes. Pour into a wet mold and chill over-night. Serve on crisp lettuce leaves with mayonnaise. This makes a delightful tart salad to serve with fowl.

THEATRES

AT THE CLIFTONA

Walter Huston and Ruth Chatterton head the cast of Samuel Goldwyn's screen version of Sinclair Lewis' "Dodsworth," which comes to the Cliftona Theatre for three days Sunday.

Huston again plays the title role of Sam Dodsworth, the easy-going American husband, in which he scored on the stage for more than two years, and Miss Chatterton has the role of Fran, the pretty, frivolous, selfish wife whom he adores.

Great Cast

Sidney Howard, who wrote the stage adaptation is again author of the screenplay, which is enacted by a great supporting cast including Paul Lukas, Mary Astor, David Niven, Mme. Maria Ouspenskaya, Gregory Gaye, Odette Myrtil, Kathryn Marlowe, John Payne, Spring Byington, and Harlan Briggs. Mme. Ouspenskaya and Gregory Gaye repeat the roles they created in the stage version.

The story opens when hard-working, successful Sam Dodsworth retires to travel and enjoy his first taste of leisure. But to his wife, Fran, Europe means one last fling at romance before settling down to middle-age.

millionaire's son and a personal maid?

That's the romantic question propounded in the Fox hit "Private Number," opening Sunday at the Grand Theatre with Robert Taylor and Loretta Young starred together for the first time as a screen love-team.

Filled with youthful love-making, gay romancing, and vivid drama highlighted with hilarious comedy by the irrepressible Patsy Kelly, "Private Number" is said to be the year's outstanding romantic hit.

Robert Taylor, only son of the wealthy Winfield family, returns home from college and mistakes Loretta Young, his mother's maid, for a house guest. He refuses to permit her to explain her situation and this first chance meeting is the keystone of a romance which culminates when the family go to Maine for the summer.

Miss Young has accompanied Mrs. Winfield, and the small confines of the summer resort result in Taylor and the girl being thrown together constantly. One moonlit night, while riding in Taylor's motorboat, they decide to get married.

AT THE CIRCLE

The film version of Willard Mack's famous stage melodrama, "The Drag Net," opens Sunday at the Circle Theatre. This startling expose of how the underworld frequently employs successfully go-betweens and "fixers" with the municipal authorities of great cities is laden with resonant thrills, moves at lightning speed and crashes into a terrific climax. Rod La Rocque, Marian Nixon, Betty Compson, Jack Adair, John Dillson and Edward Keane are featured.

WILLIAMSPORT

The Annual Hallowe'en Masquerade party of the Sorosis Club was enjoyed Monday evening when about thirty members gathered at the home of Mrs. Russell Wardell. A tiny ghost directed guests through the lawn and finally into the home by the way of the rear door. Lighted Jack-o-Lanterns cast a mystic glow over the wierd scene, as guests cleverly masked arrived.

When masks were removed and prizes awarded, a short business session was held. Mrs. Will Schleich leader of the evening discussed "Famous People of Ohio. At the conclusion of the program seasonal refreshments were served from the dining room table with Mrs. Wardell and Mrs. Ansil Driesbach presiding. Miss Virginia Smith, Miss Grace were received as new members of the club.

HORSE SHOW THRILLS THOUSAND FRIDAY EVENING; RUGG MARE FEATURES

MAJOR EVENTS ARRANGED FOR SATURDAY NIGHT

Forrest Short's Red Fox Sees
Much Action, Wins Several Contests

ELIZABETH L. IS VICTOR

Columbus Men Serve as Judges in Competition

A steady rain, that made 1,000 spectators uncomfortable but failed to prevent some of the finest horses that ever came to Circleville from performing in championship form fell during the first night of the horse event, Friday. The competition was delayed from Thursday evening because of the rain.

The horse show, directed by Robert D. Musser and Paul Adkins, will be repeated at 8 o'clock Saturday evening on the lighted Southern Ohio Electric Co. field, W. Mound street. The natural amphitheatre of the ball park makes an ideal spot for the show.

The open classes include some outstanding horses, winners in many other fairs and shows this summer and in other years. Mrs. F. M. Rugg of Granville on a beautiful horse, Rugged View Princess, carried off the major event Friday, the five-gaited open class. All the horses entered in this event will meet again tonight for the grand championship.

Flaming Gold Second

Second place in the five-gaited open went to Flaming Gold, owned by Waldo Woodson; third to The Sportsman, owned and ridden by Hazel Devo Robinson of Marietta; fourth to Beau Cheval, owned by Sam Huttenbauer of Cincinnati, and ridden by Charles Merritt; fifth to Chief Service, owned and ridden by Dr. L. N. Bell of Marietta.

Other winners Friday were: Ladies 3-gaited owned and ridden by resident of Pickaway county;

1. Red Fox, owned by Forrest Short and ridden by Dorothy Updyke.

2. Elizabeth L., owned by Bernard Young and ridden by Mary Ruth Tolbert.

3. Regret, owned and ridden by Mrs. James Brown.

4. China Clipper, owned and ridden by Vernadene Lemay.

Ponies:
1. Betty Streets; 2. Donald Reinhart; 3. Earl Palm; 4. Allen Ankrum.

Men's 5-gaited class owned and ridden by resident of Pickaway county:

1. Rose Marie, owned by Don Asher and ridden by Dr. Charles Brown.

2. Danger Man, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Adkins, ridden by Paul Adkins.

3. Black Mare, owned and ridden by Charles E. Roof Jr.

Open 3-gaited class:

1. Vanity Fair, owned by Sam Huttenbauer and ridden by Charles Merritt, Cincinnati.

2. Jimmie Dare, owned and ridden by Mrs. H. S. Atkinson, Columbus.

3. Gallant Lady, owned by Garrett S. Claypool, Chillicothe, and ridden by Dr. Pruitt.

4. Betty Barrymore, owned and ridden by Dr. L. N. Bell, Marietta.

Roadster:
1. Maggie Murphy, owned by Sam Huttenbauer, and driven by Charles Merritt, Cincinnati.

2. Silver Mack, owned and driven by Alonzo Starkey.

3. Red Fox, owned and driven by Forrest Short.

4. Bonnie Patch, owned and driven by L. E. Miller.

He's The Captain

LARRY KELLEY,
Yale

IN THE EAST, the name of Larry Kelley is more than familiar when it comes to football. For Captain Larry of Yale is considered topnotch and pretty certain to be named All-American.

Kelley is the lad, who accidentally, or otherwise, managed to get his foot air mixed up with the ball in that recent Yale-Navy football game, which Yale won. You may recall, Mr. Kelley booted a loose ball on the ground while tearing down the field and then continued his pace to touch it down on the three-yard-line. The ball was awarded to Yale and a touchdown resulted. Whether Mr. Kelley was deliberate or lucky on that play is still being argued but it gave Yale a score.

Kelley, a senior at Yale comes from Williamsport, Pa., and prepared for Yale at the Peddie school. Captain Larry is 21 years old stands six feet two and one-half inches and weighs 195 pounds. He plays right end.

An all-sports star, Kelley was considerable of a light when he matriculated at Yale. It didn't take him long to get the nod of eastern critics by his smashing type of play, his ability to snag passes and his ready wit for every occasion. Besides being captain of the football team, Kelley is captain of baseball.

About This And That In Many Sports

Horse Show Outstanding

Just a little friendly advice to followers of sports : : : Visit the horse show tonight on the Southern Ohio Electric Co. field—There are seats enough for 1,000 and standing room for several thousand more persons—The show starts at 8 o'clock with efficient judges in charge * * *

Of Cottie O'Keefe

One of the keenest performances seen in a long while in Circleville was put on by a 12-year-old horsewoman, Cottie O'Keefe of Columbus, in Friday's 5-gaited open class—Cottie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John O'Keefe and the pride of every show in which she has appeared, was up on Danger Man, the horse of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Adkins—She was cheered every time she rode past the grandstand—The O'Keefe child has been riding since she was old enough to tell a horse from a rattle—One of her chief jobs in the last year great King's Genius, undefeated 5-gaited stallion of the Portsmouth Shelby family—King's Genius is in retirement now and Cottie has been given the honor of showing him in exhibition * * *

Football Again Today

It's football again today with the Ohio State-Indiana contests grasping local interest—Plenty of eyes will be turned on Notre Dame-Pitt, Purdue-Minnesota and Southern California and Stanford—A few questions may be settled when today's games are concluded * * *

Bid to Rose Bowl May Depend on Grid Scores

NEW YORK, Oct. 24 — (UP) — Three important gridiron clashes — an intersectional affair in the east and a pair of tilts between undefeated, untied eleven in the middle west — stand at the top of today's national football menu of 222 games.

The Galloping Gaels of St. Mary's are slight favorites to mar the clean slate of Jim Crowley's Fordham Rams in the eastern feature at New York. Both squads have great defensive eleven and a difference of more than one touchdown is not expected in the final score. A victory for the Rams might mean a ticket to the Rose Bowl.

Another game between Rose

Bowl aspirants pits Michigan State against Marquette at Milwaukee, but more eyes probably are focused on the Minnesota-Purdue affair.

Both are unbeaten and untied, but the Bierman squad, out for its 21st consecutive victory, is a favorite to stop the Boilermakers before a capacity crowd of 45,000 in the Gophers' Memorial stadium at Minneapolis.

Two teams with unblemished records, Yale and Army, have "breathers" in Rutgers and Springfield respectively. Most of the other undefeated, untied eleven have tough opponents.

COCKEYED STRATEGY

THE GREAT weakness of every highly developed system of bidding is its red tape, binding its followers to follow minor rules, rather than observe a few fundamental laws and then using their heads to better purpose for details. The other evening five out of seven players sitting South, passed, instead of bidding 1-Spade, as a result, those five players found the hand passed out. One South player and his partner bid only to three, but made four. The other South player and his partner bid 4-Spades and made an extra trick for top, through excellent strategy.

At the top score table bidding went: South, 1-Spade; West, 2-Clubs; North, 2-Spades; South, 3-Spades; North, 4-Spades, which was going strong.

The opening lead was the 10 of hearts. East's Ace won. The J of clubs was led through South. His Ace won. Of course he did not know what had happened at other tables, and he was out for top score. Confident that West had not led a singleton heart, declarer led his K of hearts, then his K of spades. The fifth trick went to dummy's Ace of spades, dropping all defensive trumps.

A third round of hearts was led. East played the Q. Declarer ruffed, leaving two long hearts in dummy, as West's 9 also fell. Dummy was put in lead with its 10 of spades. Both good hearts were led. On the first one declarer let go his last club, insuring no loss in that suit. On the last heart from dummy a low diamond was discarded by declarer. Now he felt safe, even if West held both Ace and Q of diamonds.

The J of diamonds was led. East's Q and declarer's K covered. West's Ace won the second defensive trick, but that was all his side could win. West led the K of clubs, but declarer ruffed with his last trump. Dummy's 10 of diamonds won the next trick and its long trump won the thirteenth trick. The strategy displayed by this South player, both in bidding and playing his cards was admirable, in strong contrast to the strategy of the five who passed. Also a decided improvement in play over the other South player who bid spades.

The five South players who declined to open the bidding had an odd reason for doing so. They stated that they did not open as dealer upon less than 3 quick tricks and a 5-card suit. If the K-J of hearts did not stand 8 in 9 chances of being the equal of an Ace, their reason might sound more logical.

PORTUGAL RECALLS
ENVOYS TO SPAINRelations Broken With Leftists as Hitler
Recognizes Italy's Ethiopian Victory;
Madrid Prepares for Bitter Air Raid

LISBON, Portugal, Oct. 24.—(UP)—Portugal, closely aligned with Fascist Italy and Nazi Germany in the Spanish civil war crisis, broke diplomatic relations with the Spanish left front government today.

The government, openly antagonistic to the leftists from the beginning of its belief—like that of Italy and Germany—that Spain has headed toward Communism, ordered its charge d'affaires and embassy personnel to embark at Alicante for Lisbon.

ROME, Oct. 24.—(UP)—Nazi German, in a gesture of friendship that constituted also a warning to all Europe, recognized formally Fascist Italy's conquest of Ethiopia today.

League Is Flouted

Fuehrer Adolf Hitler, in conference at Berchtesgaden in Bavaria with Count Galeazzo Ciano, Italian foreign minister and Premier Benito Mussolini's son-in-law, announced the recognition, flouting the League of Nations and those great powers which opposed so long and so vainly Il Duce's war on Italy's fellow league member, Ethiopia.

Hitler's action was announced here just as Ciano arrived at Berchtesgaden across the Alps.

PARIS, Oct. 24.—(UP)—Premier Leon Blum ordered the air ministry today to send planes to Madrid to repatriate a group of Argentine refugees there.

PARIS, Oct. 24.—(UP)—Unconfirmed reports through Paris today that a Russian merchant fleet laden with arms and munitions for the Spanish left front government left Black Sea ports for Spain today.

MADRID, Oct. 24.—(UP)—Madrid braced itself today for a merciless air raid. All railroad service was suspended. Normal activity was all but paralyzed. The capital's million-odd people, gazed anxiously at the sky, and attuned their ears for the dreaded sound of planes.

BRICKER SCORES
HIGHWAY OFFICE
AS "POLITICAL"

CLEVELAND, Oct. 24.—(UP)—A sharp attack on administration of the state highway department was made by Attorney General John W. Bricker, Republican nominee for governor, in a radio address here today.

Bricker promised, if elected, "to demolish the army of political hangers-on in that (the highway) department."

"After next January it shall no longer be necessary to get in touch with a political boss in some hotel room or outside office in order to do business with the state highway department," Bricker said.

He charged the present administration with "ignoring" an act of the present legislature providing for transfer of five thousand miles of county roads to the state highway system.

The attorney general also said he had evidence that official correspondence of the highway department contained an appeal for subscriptions to "The Ohioan," Democratic newspaper.

GRAHAM SAYS
PUMPKIN SHOW
CLOSES AT 12

The Pumpkin Show will close promptly at 12 midnight, Mayor W. J. Graham announced Saturday noon.

He informed all police officers to notify concession stands and shows about the ruling.

TRUCKER FACES
GRILLING AFTER FATAL ACCIDENT

John Smith, of Logan, W. Va., was taken to Franklin county early Saturday by deputy sheriffs to face investigation after a fatal accident one south of Columbus.

Smith, arrested near Chillicothe by members of the state highway patrol attending the Pumpkin show, admitted parking his truck without warning lights.

Clark Garren, 20, of Columbus, was fatally injured when the automobile in which he was riding with Homer Hall, Columbus, struck the truck.

Mary L. Riley, 515 Boyd street, Lancaster, suffered minor cuts and bruises Friday night when struck by an automobile on Court street between Pinckney and Main.

Officers said the car, traveling south, was driven by Frank Mansfield, 370 E. Main street, Chillicothe. The woman was treated at Berger hospital.

THRONG ATTACKS
SPEAKER, WRECKS
RADIO STATION

EL CENTRO, Calif., Oct. 24.—(UP)—A mob took the action Esco L. Richardson, communist candidate for congress, feared peace officers would take when he spoke over a radio station here. Two hundred men last night wrecked radio station KKO, beat up Richardson, then dragged him to a train bound for San Diego.

When Richardson, mauled and bruised, left El Centro, his speaking engagement cut short, the city's directors of peace, chief of police J. Sterling Oswald and Sheriff Robert W. Ware, still were in Los Angeles. A few hours earlier a federal judge had ruled they "could keep the peace as they see fit," when communist orators come to their city.

To Visit for Duce?

ACCORDING TO RELIABLE sources, the Countess Ciano, wife of the Italian foreign minister and daughter of Premier Benito Mussolini, will visit the United States this winter. Officers point out her visit may have something to do with Ciano being given the position of Italian ambassador to Washington, as has been reported. Mussolini is eager for the friendship of the United States. He is said to be disturbed by rising anti-Fascist sentiment in America. Rumor has it that he is grooming Count Ciano to be his successor. The countess is shown above in a recent picture.

COURT PREPARES TO GIVE DIVORCE
TO KING'S FRIEND

IPSWICH, England, Oct. 24.—(UP)—Mr. Justice Hawke, of the King's bench division of the High Courts, opened today the Suffolk assizes at which he is expected to divorce Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson, American friend of King Edward, from Ernest A. Simpson.

Mrs. Simpson was reported to be in hiding 10 minutes' automobile distance from the court house, at a rambling country bungalow owned by—Mr. Simpson, ready to give testimony as to her marriage, and to leave the witness stand for two witnesses to testify that Simpson was unfaithful to her.

King Edward planned to weekend at his country place near London, Fort Belvedere, tending his roses and perhaps golfing a bit. He had dinner last night with his mother, Queen Mary, at her new residence, Marlborough House.

THEFTS AND LOST PURSES
REPORTED TO CITY POLICE

Two thefts and two lost purses were reported to police Saturday. J. Vincent, of Milwaukee, employed at the Motordrome, reported two sample cases and a kit of machinist tools stolen.

Mrs. W. M. Reid, E. Union street, said six hens disappeared from her poultry house.

Budd McManis, of Washington C. H., Route 5, told police his purse containing checks and $42 in cash was lost Friday.

G. Robinson told a purse containing $18 in cash.

PASTORS VISIT MAYOR

A delegation of local pastors held a conference with Mayor W. J. Graham Saturday morning protesting the dancing shows here in connection with the Pumpkin Show. Mayor Graham said he assured the pastors the shows would be properly supervised and explained they had been inspected and approved by state fair officials.

and Ed Schreiner Victorious, Too

Three of the major parades of the Pumpkin Show took place Friday with large entries in all classes.

The float of the Circleville Chamber of Commerce won first prize of $75 in the Industrial parade. The Esmeralda Canning Co. was second and E. A. Schreiner Shoe Repairing was third. The second and third prizes were $50 and $25, respectively.

The baby parade and show and comic and characterization completed the day's processions.

FROM MOTHER

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 24.—(UP)—A youth who said he was William Nilrot, 20, Brooklyn, N. Y., was arrested by police today and $100,000 worth of diamonds found in his possession.

Police said the youth confessed that he took the diamonds and $3,500 in cash from his mother's safe last fall.

GERMANY OPENS
ECONOMIC DRIVE
ON SOVIET PLAN

BERLIN, Oct. 24.—(UP)—Germany embarked today on a gigantic plan of economic building similar to that of its "number one enemy," Soviet Russia.

Hermann Goerring, World War aviator and Adolf Hitler's closest friend, virtual dictator of Germany's economic life, issued a decree outlining his plan, first announced at the recent Nazi congress.

The Reich's "four year plan" is strikingly similar to the "five year plan" carried out by Russia. Both were designed to lift their countries onto a much higher and more self-sufficient economic plane. Observers, however, noted this difference: Russia started from virtually nothing. Germany can build on the foundation of one of the world's best industrial structures.

The Reich, however, has been accustomed to import many raw materials which it now plans to produce at home—or at least substitutes for them.

G. O. P. WOMEN
TO HONOR WIFE
OF CANDIDATE

Republican women are invited to attend a tea to be given in honor of Mrs. John W. Bricker and wives of other state officials Wednesday, Oct. 28, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Renick W. Dunlap, Pickaway township.

The hours will be from 2 to 5 o'clock.

Republicans will hold a rally in the Memorial hall next Wednesday at 8 p. m. The speaker will be Judge Thomas J. Norton, of national headquarters, an authority on constitutional law.

Carpenter Brothers Lose
Bout to City's Officers

William and Ray Carpenter, Lancaster wrestlers, lost a bout Friday night with city police.

The Carpenters created a disturbance in a downtown restaurant and were lodged in the city jail. No charges had been filed against them Saturday morning.

Seven men, sobered up over night in the city jail, were ordered out of town Saturday morning. Police said they had no arrests Friday from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m.

In Show Colors

The Chamber of Commerce float was trimmed in the show colors, orange and black. Young ladies who graced this float were Misses Marvene Wallace, Mary Hays, Ruby Chalfin, Mary Crites and Mary Ann Sapp.

The Esmeralda Canning Co. entry was a ship of orange and white, trimmed in yellow with a large can of canned goods serving as the ship funnel. On the float were JoAnn Wallace, J. I. Smith, 3rd, Dorothy Newland, Lucille McClure and Mrs. Clement McClure.

E. A. Schreiner's entry was a blue and yellow creation with a large colonial shoe. Children on this float were Rosemary, Christine, and Ned Schreiner, James Rush and Jean Trimmer.

Brehmer Wins First

Premiums for the best decorated auto were: first, Brehmer's Greenhouses; second, Crist Department store, and third, Mack's Shoe Store. Awards are $15, $10 and $5.

Awards for the best display of products by a business firm, factory or farm were won by Sturm & Dillard, first; Harry Hill, second, and the Circleville Implement Co., third. The Sturm & Dillard display was a decorated truck loaded with washed gravel.

The other winners displayed farm implements. Premiums were the same as those given in the decorated auto class.

The classes were judged Friday afternoon after the parade but awards will not be made until after the Old Vehicle parade Saturday night.

Thumbnail sketches of the other gorgeous floats in the parade follow: Fraternal Order of Eagles, trimmed in red, white and blue with the shield of the order and mounted eagle; Circleville Ice Co., all white with a glistening ice queen castle; Circleville Lumber Co., Nile green, rainbow over a model home; Blue Ribbon Dairy, pink and blue, large milk bottle with arbor trimmed in morning glories; Circleville Oil Co., yellow and red of modernistic design with the latest type of gasoline pump displayed; Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, purple and white, lodge colors, with the clock and elk's head; Pickaway Dairy Association, red and silver, a large print of butter is displayed on the front of the float and at the rear a silver throne was arranged; and Griffith & Martin, orange and white creation depicting the home and interior. Greenery on the Griffith & Martin float was furnished by Baumans.

Children and attractive young ladies rode on all floats.

BABY PARADE

Prize winners in the baby parade, which included 143 entries, were:

Prettiest white baby under one year: 1. Marilyn Elizabeth Sowers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Sowers, W. Corwin street; 2. Michael Rooney; 3. Gene Stoffer; 4. Marilyn Ankrom.

GRAHAM ORDERS
POLITICAL SIGNS
OUT OF PARADE

An automobile, carrying large placards for the Democratic party and sponsored by the Democratic Club, was ordered to stay out of the remainder of the Pumpkin Show parades Friday after appearing in the Industrial pageant.

The order was issued by Mayor W. J. Graham, as president of the show society. Mr. Graham said there has been an understanding in the society for many years that politics was not to be a part of the show or parades. "I instructed the police to notify the party entering the car and the parade chairman that it was not to be in any more parades," the mayor said.

The huge signs, showing a large rooster crowing, were mounted on the automobile of L. T. Shaner. They were painted by Lee Smith, Kingston pike.

Mr. Shaner said he received the mayor's order Friday evening and considered it very unfair. "Republicans had the same chance to enter," he said, "but they did not take advantage of it."

ROBINSON HITS
SMITH, OTHERS
"FINICKY FIVE"

JOPLIN, Mo., Oct. 24.—(UP)—Sen. Joseph T. Robinson, D., Ark., last night assailed five former Democrats whom he accused of "betraying the party of Thomas Jefferson."

He named as the "finicky five" who are supporting Gov. Alf M. Landon as former U. S. Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, former Secretary of State Bainbridge Colby, Henry Breckenridge, former Governor Joseph Ely of Massachusetts and Alfred E. Smith.

The severest punishment which could befall the five self-styled "Jeffersonian Democrats" would be the election of Gov. Landon, the senate majority leader said.

"It may be that they shall receive some special reward for their betrayal of the party of Jefferson," Robinson said. "But what reward would be great enough to compensate them for betraying the party of Thomas Jefferson?"

WILLIAM TIGNER,
ILL YEAR, DIES
EARLY SATURDAY

William Tigner, 57, a native of Hocking county, died Saturday at 4:30 a. m. at his home in Logan street. He had been ill a year.

The funeral will be held Monday at 2:30 p. m. at the home of his son, Mack, Weldon avenue. Burial will be in Forest cemetery by M. S. Rinehart.

Mr. Tigner is survived by his widow, Mary Smith Tigner; two daughters, Mrs. Mildred Speakman of Elmwood and Mrs. Laura McKittrick of Monroe township, and another son, Gill, of Circleville.

KRINN REPORTS
BUSINESS DOWN ON SECOND DAY

Thursday's business in the Pumpkin Show was far below that on the second day last year.

T. D. Krinn said Saturday morning 3,801 persons went on rides and 3,332 attended shows on Thursday. Last year there were 8,559 on rides and 6,066 in shows.

An all-day rain caused the slump in business.

$25,000 SOUGHT
AS RESULT OF
AUTO COLLISION

Samuel W. and Lulu Nichols, Route 2, Plain City, filed suits in common pleas court Friday against Russell Jones, of Tarrion, asking a total of $25,000 damages.

The suits are based on an automobile collision Aug. 27, 1936 on Route 56 about five miles from Circleville. Mr. Nichols asks $10,000 and Mrs. Nichols, $15,000 for personal injuries. Both charge they were permanently injured.

PERFECT SKIES
GREET THRONGS ON FINAL DAY

Society Believes Expenses
Will Be Made If Sun
Continues to Shine

Old Vehicle Parade to Move at 7:15

The thirty-third annual Pumpkin Show comes to a conclusion at midnight Saturday, and from all indications the greatest crowd of visitors in recent years will gather in Circleville tonight.

The weather, inclement enough to cause the Thursday show to be almost a total loss, was perfect for the final day's events. The temperature hovered in the vicinity of 50 degrees; a bright sun was shining, and the holiday spirit prevailed generally.

Sun Brings Smiles

Show officials were happy when the sun broke through the clouds early in the morning. They saw a steady stream of nickles and duties falling into the tills of the various rides and concessions they saw, also, a chance to break even in their investments which goes into the thousand-figure.

Wednesday's opener was profitable, but Thursday was a wash-out. Friday, though the sun was overcast and showers fell intermittently, attracted a great crowd. Saturday promises to break all records. Hundreds of persons were inspecting the interesting displays early in the day. By noon a large crowd was in the city, and by 2 o'clock when the pet parade was ready to move, the streets were filled with interested show visitors.

Parade at 7:15

The old vehicle parade, always interesting, is booked at 7:15 this evening and at 8 o'clock the show will be completed on the Southern Ohio Electric Co. field. The horse show is the finest ever held in Circleville, officials believe. Seating is available for horse show enthusiasts.

Friday's parades were splendid with the music of the two school bands, the Legion drum corps, the Stoutsville school band, and the Adelphi band helping add the carnival spirit to the festivities.

The crowds were so dense that parades in afternoon and evening became separated.

There will be no fireworks display Saturday night.

CANADA READY TO STEP INTO
"BABY DERBY"

TORONTO, Oct. 24.—(UP)—Prime Minister Mitchell F. Hepburn threatened today to intervene in Toronto's $750,000 baby derby which he called "the most revolting, disgusting exhibition ever put on in a civilized country."

Aside from that aspect of the race, started 10 years ago by Charles Vance Millar, eccentric lawyer, who left his fortune to the mother having the most babies before midnight, Oct. 31, 1936, Premier Hepburn said something had to be done to keep "a host of lawyers" from getting the money.

"It is the government's duty to end this fiasco," Hepburn said. "If the government does not take action soon litigation will drag the case through the courts and even to the privy council. When the court fights end there will be no money left for these poor mothers and their babies. Undoubtedly the government will take some action to stop such litigation," he said.

How is Senator Borah Getting on in Campaign?

Idaho Expects Him to Be Re-Elected Even Though State Is Likely to Go for Roosevelt

Senator Borah who, supporters say, will be re-elected to the U. S. senate, after 30 years.

BOISE, Ida., Oct. 23.—Senator William E. Borah is "singing the same old song"—monopolies, foreign relations and monetary principles—in his campaign, which today appears certain to re-elect him to the U. S. senate seat he has held for over 30 years.

Borah is proud of that song and with it has challenged the Republican party. He told a Union party rally in Boise that candidates meant nothing to him. "It did not concern him for whom he spoke," and that he "would speak under anybody's auspices, regardless of party lines."

To a certain extent, Borah is backing the New Deal program of relief spending. He is opposed to a return to the gold standard and promises Idaho, rich in silver, he will advocate a stronger position for silver.

Against Monopolies
Borah also promises support of a program against monopolies. "They say monopolies are not a national issue," Borah recently declared. "If you don't believe monopolies are a national issue, then cross eastern financial interests, tramp on their toes and you'll soon find out. Monopolies must go. If God gives me strength, I hope to see the day when monopolies are overpowered."

The day after that declaration, Borah announced he was "going after the Republican party" just as the G. O. P. was going after him. From now on, he said, his campaign was a matter of national issues and his battle, as usual, was for those issues which he believed were "for the good of my people."

Townsend Support
Recent endorsement, in principle, of the Townsend plan brought immediate support of the Union party and Townsends in Idaho. A similar endorsement of the Townsend plan by his Democratic opponent, Gov. C. Ben Ross, brought consternation on the part of the Union party leaders. The

SCHOOL TO BE OUT OCT. 30-31

At the sixty-seventh annual session of the Central Ohio Teachers' Association to be held in Columbus October 30-31, one of the best programs obtained in recent years is to be presented. Among the noted speakers will be Will Durant, philosopher, publicist and noted author; Richard Halliburton, adventurer, author and speaker; Frank E. Baker, president of State Teachers' College of Milwaukee, and an outstanding educator and speaker; and Ralph Sockman, author of many well-known books.

Four sessions will be held at which the teachers in the Association must be present. All other groups will meet singly to discuss and hear lectures which pertain to the subjects of special interest to them. Thirty-one such classes are to be held.

Schools will be dismissed on Friday, October 30th, as all Circleville teachers are planning to attend.

INTERNATIONAL GROUP OF GIRL RESERVES TO MEET

The first meeting of the International group of the Senior Girl Reserves was held Monday evening at the home of Harriet Harmon.

This group is composed of two sub-divisions: the International and Athletic and Nature. Each division will meet separately with a joint meeting once a month.

A winter roast is planned for October, the twenty-sixth by the Athletic and Nature group. They intend to hike the river and make some nature studies. Election of officers will be held at that time.

JOURNALISTS TO JOIN CONVENTION ON NOVEMBER 6-7

On November 1 and 7, the Journalism Association of Ohio Schools is holding its thirteenth annual convention. The Circleville high school journalists and advisors have been invited to attend.

The convention will be held at the Neil House in Columbus and there will be included on the program many interesting and helpful talks by prominent journalists.

Registration of delegates begins Friday at 10:00 A. M. on the Mezzanine floor of the Neil House.

The formal opening is scheduled for 2:00 P. M. in the Junior ball-room. Major Norman Imue, noted lecturer and newspaperman, will make the principal address of the afternoon.

Friday evening there will be a banquet in the Neil House ball-room with a dance following the dinner speech by Jack Raper, editorial writer and columnist for the Cleveland Press.

Discussions and round table work will take place on Saturday morning under the supervision of T. W. Piercy, advisor of The Record, Western Reserve Academy. Talks on many interesting journalistic subjects are planned for this session.

The registration fee is one dollar-fifty cents for each person and it will include all convention activities and also a ticket to the Ohio State-Chicago football game Saturday afternoon.

All delegates have been invited to take an inspection tour of The Dispatch plant and offices conducted by special guides.

Several journalism students from Circleville high school are planning to attend it and it is hoped that a large number will have the opportunity to go and hear the helpful program.

ZAENGLEIN HAS PROJECTS OPEN

C. F. Zaenglein, instructor of manual training at Circleville high school, has announced that the students are working on various projects.

The seventh grade has just finished a short course in instruction on the care and use of tools and will soon start an elementary course in drawing the plans on projects to be made.

A course in lettering has been completed by the eighth grade which is now ready to start drawings for this year's work.

The freshmen will devote the first semester to mechanical drawing.

Active shop work has been started by the sophomores since the completion of the project drawings.

The advanced students are making cedar chests, modernistic desks, twin beds, and sewing cabinets, a spinet desk, a corner china cabinet, and a row boat.

For the first time rural students are offered the opportunity to make farm projects. Many of them are now working on hog houses.

GIRL RESERVES TO VISIT CHURCH

In accordance to the custom of past years the Junior Girl Reserves voted at their meeting Tuesday at 3:00 to attend the various churches of the city.

The group decided that they would attend the churches according to the number of members belonging to the church in descending order.

The churches which are to be attended are in order: Methodist Episcopal, Lutheran, United Brethren, Evangelical, Catholic, St. Philip's, Episcopal, Presbyterian, Church of Christ, and the Second Baptist.

Regina Thornton, chairman of the devotional committee, is in charge of seating.

A program was given in charge of Marilyn Lutz. This program consisted of a discussion of the Girl Reserve Purpose which is "To Find and Give the Best" and the Girl Reserve Slogan, "To Face Life Squarely."

BEGINS NEW SUBJECT

The eighth grade spelling workbook titled "My Word Books" by Breed and Seale have arrived. This will be the first year in which the grade has studied spelling as a separate subject.

DEBATE CLUB

The debate club meeting for Tuesday evening was postponed until next week.

Harry D. Kraft (A Tribute)

A face that had grown to be familiar and welcome, no longer greets us. There has gone from the halls of our five schools a presence that we wished, could such things be, might have been one of us, always.

That Mr. Kraft's days with us were numbered has for some months been taken for granted by the many who loved him.

In Mr. Kraft the schools of Circleville for some twenty odd years have possessed an attendance officer in whom were combined two qualities: a stern attitude towards his oftentimes unpleasant duties, and a sympathetic heart. These two qualities in a sense oppose each other, and hence are not too often found in the same person. For this reason among others, Mr. Kraft's position will not be an easy one to fill.

Mr. Kraft possessed a sense of the fitness of things. He had his first time to overstay in a busy office the purpose of his coming there. In one of his age, this has been a remarkable fact. That he was conscientious, too, and rigidly honest goes without saying.

Than he who is gone, Nature never gave to Circleville a finer gentleman.

STUDENTS JOIN DEDICATION AT DELAWARE HIGH

At the dedication ceremony of Delaware's new stadium on October 17, Circleville was represented by four members of the senior class, Dorothy Avis, Charlotte Cook, Jessie Dresbach, Jean Lucas and Miss Elma Rains.

A representative committee was sent from each member of the Central Buckeye League—Bexley, Circleville, Delaware, Grandview, Marysville and Westerville.

These representatives marched through Delaware in a parade which ended in the newly constructed Community Field and Stadium. After the formal presentation of the field took place the three bands—Delaware, Marysville and Westerville—accompanied the student body as it sang Delaware's school song.

The Delaware-Marysville football game followed.

At the "half" the school flags of each school in the Central Buckeye League were presented to the Delaware class officers. These flags were then placed at the rear of the field where they remained for the rest of the game.

The result of the game was—Delaware—6, Marysville—0. Recently Circleville's game with Marysville scheduled for October 24 was postponed.

PLAN MADE FOR TWO GLEE CLUBS

The Boys' and Girls' Glee clubs under the direction of Miss Marjorie Priest, are enthusiastically preparing for several programs in the near future.

The Boys' Glee club is working diligently on many of the season's current popular songs such as, "A Star Fell Out of Heaven," "Until the Real Thing Comes Along," "When I'm With You," "Empty Saddles," "Rendezvous With a Dream," "I Can't Escape From You." They plan to present an interesting program of this music for the last football pep meeting in November.

The Girls' Glee club is practicing now to present a chapel program late in November. For this program they are practicing the numbers, "Will I Remember," "The World is Waiting For the Sunrise" and "The Chinese Lullaby."

Next week the girls begin work on some Christmas music, elaborate plans are being laid now for the Christmas Cantata to be presented shortly before school is dismissed for the holidays.

Both the Boys' and Girls' Glee clubs show marked improvement and continue to take a decided interest in the well selected music.

JOURNALISM CLASS HAS TEA

At an informal tea on Monday afternoon at 3 p. m., the Journalism class of Circleville high school honored its newly elected editor-in-chief, Ruth Robinson, and her assistant editor, Marjorie Leach.

The members of the class are: William Ammer, Dorothy Avis, Ruth Clark, Eleanor Dresbach, Jessie Dresbach, Emily Gunning, Mary Hays, Marjorie Leach, Mary Ellen Maxey, Adabelle May, Mary Newmyer, Ruth Robinson, Helen Sayre, Mary Jane Schiear, and Benedine Yates.

Miss Pignani, Mrs. Downing and Mrs. Howard B. Moore were guests of the class at the tea.

The class plans to have a tea each month in honor of the newly elected editor.

LETTER HANDED TO PRINCIPAL BY RAILROAD AGENT

The following letter was received from Mr. A. W. Osborn, agent for the Norfolk and Western Railway Company, by Mr. Reger and deemed of such importance as to have it printed in its entirety for all to read:

"A very dangerous practice on the part of some of the school children has been observed and steps should be taken to warn them of the danger and to stop trespassing on railroad property.

"Several boys practice 'cutting across lots' which brings them on to the Norfolk & Western tracks between the passenger sheds and Pickaway St. and the noon hour brings them in close time to that of our passenger train due at the station.

"It has been reported these run headlong onto the tracks without regard to the approaching train, and on two occasions one of them fell on the track and had to be helped off by his companions.

"Another exceedingly dangerous practice is for children (and others) to cross the tracks immediately behind the rear car in train they may be waiting for to clear the crossing, and a train may be approaching from the opposite direction on the other track.

"At crossings where no watchman is maintained, we have installed for safety wig-wag signals which ring a bell and show a red light at the approach of trains, and if the school children will walk just a little farther to cross the tracks at these crossings and obey the warnings for their safety, it may save a limb or life.

"They should be warned not to cross behind the passing train until the wig-wag signals have cleared behind the train, or until they can see sufficient distance ahead to be sure that a train or motor car is not approaching."

JITNEY LUNCHES ARRANGED BY GIRL RESERVES

Tuesday at the Senior Girl Reserve meeting the girls discussed a program for a school assembly which the club will sponsor. A committee composed of Mary Newmyer, Wahnia Barnhart, Mary Crites, Harriet Harmon, Harriet McMath and Ruth Robinson was appointed to be in charge of the program.

It was decided by the club to accept the proposal of the Junior Girl Reserves to form an alliance with them and to jointly buy the (Y. W. C. A.) Bookshelf and Woman's Press books which both clubs will use. These books will be of great service to the advisors of the groups and to the girls who are in charge of the programs during the year.

A jitney lunch was planned which will be served in the high school building on Wednesday noon, November the eighteenth.

Mary Jane Schiear, Jean Cryder and Betty Colville were put in charge of the publicity for the luncheon. The food committee is comprised of Rosemary Metzger, Dorothy Walters, Benadine Yates and Eleanor Pearce. They will be assisted by Kathleen Green, Helen Sayre, Mary Ellen Maxey and Marjorie Leach who were appointed to serve on the clean-up committee.

When the business meeting reached a conclusion, Harriet McMath gave a very interesting and instructive talk on her stay at the Girl Reserve Camp Wildwood. She was sent as a delegate from the Senior Girl Reserves.

A member of the local chapter is sent each year to learn new ideas and suggestions which the girls realize will benefit their club.

YOUTH'S DIVISION OF COUNTY CHURCH ORGANIZATION ARRANGES PROGRAM

Mrs. Reber Leader of Huge Group

Monthly Meetings Fixed as Executive Board Conducts Confab

The executive committee of the Youth's division of the Pickaway county church organization met at the home of its leader, Mrs. Homer Reber, Walnut township. Present were Judson Lanman, Forrest Brown and Miss Mary Ruth Tolbert.

The work for the year was planned with monthly meetings arranged. Chairmen were appointed to organize these meetings. Judging from the many activities which have been scheduled, a very interesting year lies ahead for those who participate, since all of the county people of every church denomination are members of the organization.

It is hoped that many will take part in these meetings. The year's work will include social meetings, a drama, a county orchestra, a county choir, debating, trips to other churches, and various other programs.

The first meeting will be a box social in November, the date to be announced later.

The officers this year are president, Judson Lanman, Walnut township; vice president, Forrest Brown, Pickaway township; secretary, Mary Ellen Kirkpatrick, Circleville, and treasurer, Carl Anderson, Pickaway township.

DELEGATES OF TRINITY CHURCH TO JOIN CONFAB

The fourth biennial convention of the Women's Missionary society of the American Lutheran church will take place next week, Oct. 27-29, at Trinity Lutheran church, Columbus, corner of Third and Fulton streets.

Trinity church is the oldest and largest of the 24 American Lutheran churches of the capital city.

The Von Bora society is sending as its voting delegate, Mrs. Mary K. Bower. The Ladies' society is sending Mrs. Charles Diehlman and Mrs. Elmer Wolf as its official delegates. Mrs. Bower is thank-offering chairman of the Ohio group.

Many Circleville women will attend.

Christianity as Love

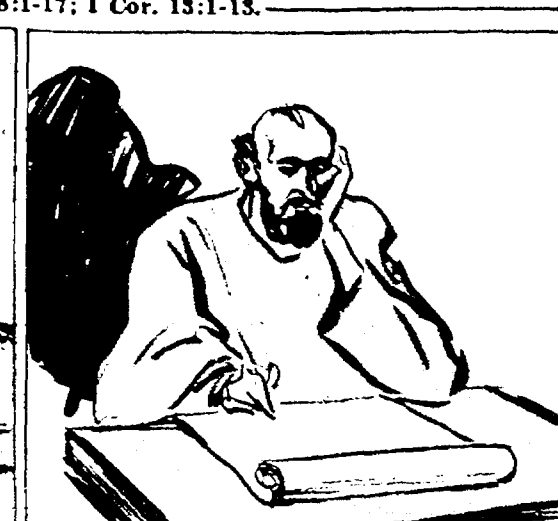

Christian love drew Paul to the home of Aquilla and Priscilla in Corinth where they worked together as tentmakers while Paul preached the gospel to the people.

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Scripture—Acts 18:1-17; I Cor. 13:1-13.

Paul was discouraged and ready to quit Corinth when the Lord Jesus came by night in a vision to Paul, saying, "Be not afraid, I am with thee, and I have much people in this city."

Paul spent a year and a half in Corinth. Later he wrote to leaders there. They were quarreling over whose work was most important in the church. Paul told them love was the greatest of all gifts.

Without love eloquence is mere noise, knowledge and faith are profitless and even sacrifice meaningless. Love will outlive all other gifts. (GOLDEN TEXT—I Cor. 13:13.)

By the Rev. Alvin E. Bell And Alfred J. Branson

Christianity as Love "BRASS TACKS" ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Oct. 23 is Acts 18:1-17 and I Corinthians 13:1-13, the Golden Text being I Corinthians 13:13. "Now abideth faith, hope, love, these three; and the greatest of these is love.")

IF IT IS true that "God is love," it is especially true that religion is the expression of love towards God and towards our neighbor. "Love is the fulfilling of the law." But God's love is the source: "We love because he first loved us."

Love of Friends Strengthens
It was Christian love that drew Paul to Aquilla and Priscilla his fellow tentmakers after unloving race prejudice drove them out of Rome and Paul found them in Corinth. They worked together at their trade as a means of support while Paul preached the gospel to all whom he could reach with it. It was Christian love and the encouragement of the loving fellowship which gave new power to Paul's ministry after Silas and Timothy came down from Macedonia and joined Paul at Corinth. Thus love between friends does more than increase their respective talents by addition, it multiplies each by all the others and then some!

Christ's Love Encourages
But in an hour of despondency over the exceeding wickedness of Corinth and the immensity of the task of evangelizing such a city, Paul was overwhelmed with fears for his own safety and the futility of continuing his mission in Corinth, when the Lord Jesus appeared to him in a vision saying, "Be not afraid, but speak and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to harm thee: for I have much people in this city." It was the love of Christ not only for his servant Paul but for the great throngs of lost souls in Corinth that brought Paul this heavenly Visitor and the vision of a great task yet to be done. And this "love of Christ constrained" Paul to "dwell there a year and six months, teaching the word of God among them" and building up the church in Corinth to which Paul wrote at least three letters. In one there is included the most beautiful treatise on love is all literature.

"The Greatest Thing in the World"
To Christians quarreling among themselves over the relative greatness of their several gifts Paul commended love as a gift more earnestly to be desired, and "a most excellent way". Truly, it is "the greatest thing in the world" as Henry Drummond says.

Love is the one absolutely essential gift without which every other gift is valueless. Eloquence without love is mere noise: "If I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, but have not love, I am become sounding brass, or a clanging cymbal." Knowledge and faith without love are profitless: "If I have the gift of prophecy... knowledge... faith... but have not love, I am nothing." Sacrifice is meaningless without love: "If I give my body to be burned, but have not love, it profiteth me nothing."

The Nature of Love
"Love is patient, kind, humble; 'Love suffereth long, and is kind, etc.' Love is courteous and unselfish: "Doth not behave itself unseemly, seeketh not its own." Love is slow to expose, eager to believe the best, hopeful, patient: "beareth (literally 'covereth') all things, believeth hopeful... endureth all things." Love outlasts everything else: "Love never faileth." It will outlive prophecy, tongues, knowledge and every other gift. We shall never outgrow love: it will still abide when we no longer see in a mirror darkly but face to face and know even as we are known. "Now abideth faith, hope, love, these three; and the greatest of these is love."

BELGIUM STANDS ALONE
SINCE 1914, when the German armies swung across the Belgian frontier in the hope of following the path of least resistance to the French channel ports, the alliance between France and Belgium has been one born of common peril and continued in the interests of mutual security. Its termination is one of the most surprising developments in a European situation which seems to hold limitless capacity for the production of disturbing crises.

King Leopold's explanation of Belgium's severance of a tie that has bound his country to a traditional friend is clear without, however, being illuminating as to basic causes. He says that Belgium prefers henceforth to stand alone, to emulate the "proud example" of Holland and Switzerland. To this end the Government will strengthen the country's military defenses, extend the period of service and strive in other ways for increased security.

But what is the real reason for the new isolation from France? Why is Belgium determined to stand alone and to reject the potential help in time of crisis that would come from an alliance with a strong neighbor? The answer lies in the growing tendency of France to follow the political ideals of Russia and to establish increasingly strong military and commercial relations with the Soviet Government. For many reasons, principally those of religion, Belgium is hostile to Moscow.

King Leopold's abandonment of the French alliance is a heavy blow to France because it makes her position additionally precarious from a military viewpoint and gives comfort to Germany, reflecting as it does the strong pro-German sentiment long known to flourish in Belgium.

DULL SKIES

THE human mind is subtly affected by cloudy skies. When the storms of winter come, people are apt to feel less hopeful. Some travelling salesmen remark that they can never sell much goods on a cloudy or stormy day. People seem to lack confidence.

The storms of winter may not seem necessary for our refreshment, but if it were not for them, our water supplies would run dry, and our rivers would not turn their power wheels.

The wise philosopher is not much affected by weather. All kinds of skies look good to him. The artist eye sees beauty even when the sky is obscured by clouds. Sunshine is a wonderful thing, but if we had it every day, we should lose all sense of its beauty.

'ROUND CIRCLEVILLE . . Hour by Hour

PAGES from the Diary of an Antiquated Reporter:
Up to a regular London morning, one of the pea soup kind with visibility down to zero and automobile traffic slowed to a walk. Deserted streets at the early hour in great contrast to that milling Pumpkin Show throng of the night before. Where do they all come from? And how deserted we will feel for a time when it is all over.
Among the visitors and guests of this scrivener L. S. Galvin publisher of the Lima News, and his advertising director, Charles B. Hinkle. Roy Galvin, outstanding among all the nation's publishers, writing as Oh Oh Jackenrim, originated this type of newspaper column and for many years his department in the Lima News has been the leading feature of that publication. The local 'Round Circleville is a direct theft of his style, but with his knowledge and consent.
Few are the nations of the world that Jackenrim has not visited and most of the world famous celebrations he has attended. Yet in Circleville at our own Pumpkin Show he found pleasure greater than elsewhere, for in his own words that big gathering of Friday night was constituted of "my kind of people." Jackenrim was born and reared in south central Ohio and his personal liking leans toward the district folk. "A fine town and a fine celebration" was the verdict of a distinguished visitor who has been almost everywhere and has seen almost everything. That is real praise.

For the information of the few persons who were not in the ville Friday night and who might doubt the attendance record, attention is called to the fact that one big parade was completely lost in the throng for almost half an hour and was found and "rescued" only after a special detail of a half dozen policemen was assigned to the searching task.

Did see only one drunk and he well aware of the fact. "Mister," he said, "I've got a real load. I'm taking part of it out of this crowd right now and as soon as I get it to a nice quiet place I'm coming back for the rest of it. It is too great to handle on one trip."
Did hear complaints regarding two sidehows, but all during the celebration have noted that both have failed to prove attractions. Our Pumpkin Show gathering is not a carnival mob and it does a grand job of ignoring all except the better entertainment features.
A barker on Main street selling automatic pencils: "It does everything, folks. It propels, repels and misspells." The make is the same as mine, so at last a mystery is solved. The fault's not mine, but the manufacturer's.

Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round
By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

AMITY OF HORNER AIDS FDR
CHICAGO—Making a five-minute back platform stop at Bloomington, Ill., the other day, President Roosevelt referred to the city as "Bloomiburg." The crowd took the mistake good-naturedly, but J. Ham Lewis, ever the gallant Senator, turned to Mrs. Roosevelt and remarked: "How clever of the President to make that little inadvertence and line up the Jewish vote for Governor Horner."

The Governor in question, a very colorful personality, was with the President on his train. And the truth is that Horner probably can line up about as many Illinois votes for Roosevelt as Roosevelt can for Horner.

THREE JACKS
In fact, upon the personalities of three prominent Democrats—Horner, Nash and Kelly—hinges the outcome of the election in Illinois.

Heretofore they have battled bitterly. At present they appear to be united for the purpose of returning Franklin Roosevelt to the White House. For a time, however, it was doubtful whether even that would unite them.

Henry Horner is Jewish, born Levy, took his mother's name after his parents separated, is just as popular with Illinois business men as Roosevelt is unpopular.

With 98,000 families on relief in Cook County alone, he balanced the budget. He is a bachelor, has a library of Lincolniana famous throughout the state, also a collection of Thomas Nast cartoons, and has battled as vigorously against Kelly-Nash bossism in Chicago as Nast did against New York's famous Boss Tweed.

BERTIE AND FRANK

Colonel Robert McCormick of the Chicago Tribune, and vice-presidential candidate Colonel Frank Knox of the Chicago Daily News have been business rivals for years. They have even battled over setting all the clocks of Chicago ahead one hour to Eastern Standard Time so the News, an evening paper, could not print Wall Street stock closings in its last editions. This means increased circulation for the morning Tribune.

But suddenly they buried the hatchet and became as brothers, in order to make war on Roosevelt.

And for a time their war was most effective. They ousted corrupt and discredited Republican leaders. They started five Republican caravans touring every part of the state. They spent money hand over fist. Result was that shortly before Roosevelt made his recent trip across Illinois, Democratic chances, once at high pitch, were low. It looked like a fifty-fifty proposition.

PRO-ROOSEVELT SWING

Recently, however, Roosevelt's stock has soared. There are three reasons. One is that Governor Horner and the Kelly-Nash machine have listened to Jim Farley. Not only have they buried the hatchet, but they seem to be working in genuine harmony.

Second is the effect Roosevelt had on his recent trip. There is no question that he won a lot of votes.

DIET AND HEALTH

Corrector Corrected on Foods' Water Content

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
A COLUMNIST, who describes himself as a philosopher, wrote in his column in a Cleveland newspaper:

"The Doctor Is in Error. The largest part of any food is water.—Dr. Logan Clendingen's syndicate article.
"Frank Walling sends me a long list of the water content of various foods. The very highest percentage of water is found in bananas, 48.9 per cent. At the other extreme we have walnuts, 1 per cent; almonds 2.7 per cent. None of the 25 food articles listed has as high as 50 per cent water.
"The doctor should have looked the subject up in the 'Encyclopedia Britannica.'
"Philosopher One to Look
I am afraid that Frank Walling and the philosopher are the ones who should have looked it up in the 'Encyclopedia Britannica.' I find a list there which shows that beef is about 60 per cent water, veal 60 per cent, mutton 51 per cent, ham 48 per cent, eggs 65 per cent, salmon 63 per cent, oysters 88 per cent, whole milk 87 per cent, cabbage 77 per cent, apples 84 per cent, tomatoes 55 per cent, strawberries 85 per cent. From Carter's 'Nutrition and Clinical Dietetics' I find in the table of food values the following evidences of foods which have a fairly high percentage of water: beans 80 per cent, chicken, light meat 70 per cent, codfish 82 per cent, black bass 76 per cent, haddock 81 per cent, bread 36 per cent, asparagus 91 per cent, string beans, fresh as purchased, 83 per cent; carrots, 88 per cent, cauliflower 92 per cent, onions 91 per cent, potatoes 78 per cent, pumpkin 93 per cent, etc.
"The only foods which are very low in water content are such dried foods as the following: oatmeal, uncooked, 7 per cent; rice 12 per cent, entire wheat flour 11 per cent, crackers about 5 per cent, pretzels 8 per cent, cookies and cakes on the average of about 12 per cent, candy, which has no water, dried vegetables and nuts.
"If it were not for this high water content of our foods we would have a terrible time digesting them, especially in the first process of digestion, mastication in the mouth, and would be compelled to drink much more water with our meals than we do.
"Also I wish the philosopher would spell my name right."

FLOWERS AT HER FEET
By MARIE BLIZARD
COPYRIGHT, RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

CHAPTER 29
"TELEPHONE for you, Bill," the 10-year-old "clerk" of the William Boyd & Son Hardware and Implement company, announced as he stuck his head in the door of the shop at the back of the store.
Bill wiped his greasy hands on worn overalls and put down a screw driver.
"Who is it?" he asked and gave a regretful glance at the gadgets on the work bench and another at the clock.
"Dorcas, I guess."
Bill followed him through the store into the office. You wouldn't know, looking around that office with its two rolled-top desks, the old-fashioned swivel chairs, and the litter of catalogs, that it was the office of business men who rated their solid wealth at nearly a million dollars.
Bill picked up the receiver. There were no French telephones in Bairsdale.
"Hello," he said.
"Bill, I hope I didn't call you away from something important."
"It's okay, Dorcas. I was going to call you anyway. How'd you like to see Joe Brown at the movies tonight?"
It was Wednesday night. Bill always called Dorcas Hill on Wednesdays. Wednesdays and Sundays were "beau nights" in Bairsdale.
"Were you?" she said as pleased as though she hadn't expected it. "I've got something else in mind. Neil Chatterton and Bob, Catharine Fox and Herb were trying to get up a bridge game tonight but I thought it would be fun to get a steak and drive down to the lake and cook it. It will be a grand night. There's a full harvest moon, Bill."
"Boy! That big, red moon! I haven't seen one in a whole year. Remember the moon last year?"
"Last year?" He couldn't see Dorcas Hill's happy smile. "Wasn't that the night I met you?"
"Woman, it was! If some guy had left a red light burning on his truck, I wouldn't have run into it. If I hadn't run into it and jammed my hand I wouldn't have gone to the hospital and if I hadn't..."
"...if you hadn't gone to the hospital and I hadn't been waiting for dad to finish up an operation we wouldn't have met."
"Aha, your memory isn't as bad as you thought."
"How about tonight?"
"Great! It'll be a sort of anniversary."
"Bill, if you're not too busy late this afternoon, can you knock off and help me? I've got to do the shopping and dad's got the car."
It was after two. Bill calculated that time will you need your chauffeur, madam?"
"Around four?"
"A little later, Dorcas," Bill's eye wandered to a square white envelope on his desk. "I've got an errand to do and then I'll come over."

"All right, Bill, I'll be waiting." That last statement was like Dorcas Hill—cheerful, unquestioning, undemanding, waiting.
Bill swung the telephone arm out of his way and picked up the square white envelope. He slipped the sheet of paper covered with neat backhand writing out of the envelope. There was a fragrance that came with it.
A fragrance that made him think of soft, honey-colored hair, of eyes dark as the blue of night skies, of something restless, hurt in a fragile girl of whom he always had been very fond.
He lit a battered pipe and, drawing on it slowly, he read and reread her letter. He was trying to see, not the words which were clear enough, but something back of them that he did not understand.
The poor kid! Trying to be brave and light when she was seeking escape from something. Bill hadn't fooled Bill Boyd.
He remembered the first time he had seen her, with tears streaming down her little-girl face, hair ribbon dangling, crying her heart out because her jeering audience of small, savage boys wouldn't rescue a kitten in a tree. Bill hadn't wanted to rescue it because he was small and savage, too, then. But he had. And he'd punched a couple of noses because their owners had jeered at him saying, "Bill Boyd's Allie's beau!" Nevertheless he had gone off blushing a healthy red.
He'd always thought of himself as Allie's beau then on for a good many years. Even for a year or two after she'd gone to New York. Lovely, story book Allie who would forever be the lady in distress to him.
He removed his sturdy boots from the desk and went to the safe, taking a small book from a locked compartment.
He studied the rows of figures for a while, pondered thoughtfully and drew on his pipe. Allie didn't have anyone in the world. She didn't have a comfortable home to come back to, folk who were sympathetic.
By golly, she did!
He pulled the telephone to him and asked the operator for a number.
"Hello, Mae? ... let me talk to Miss Alexander. ... Hello Mae? This is Bill."
There was pleasure in Mae Alexander's voice. "Hello, Bill! I'm glad you called me. I wanted to tell you I'll be able to pay you something this month. Mrs. Trubee bought that highboy I picked up..."
"Don't worry about that, Mae. I'm not disturbed about that note. I want to ask you to do a favor for me. A big favor and I want it to be just between you and me."
"Why, sure, Bill. I owe you everything I've got. I'd be delighted. What is it?"

"It's about a friend of mine. I kind of thought I'd drop around and talk it over with you around four o'clock."
He went back to his work for an hour and whistled cheerfully. He whistled while he took a shower and put on the clothes made by a tailor in Bond street, London.
He parked his small car in front of Mae Alexander's decorating shop and jumped lightly over the door. When he came out, he swung the car around the corner and stopped it before the telegraph office, sent off a wire and went to fetch Dorcas.
"I feel good, today," he said to her. "Let's get 10 leaks."
"You must be hungry," she said when he had bought enough steak for a fireman's picnic, pickles, rolls and an armful of other groceries. "I am," he answered cheerfully. "I'm going to finish off my dinner by eating you."
"I'd be an awfully big bite and not very sweet."
"You'd do for me," he said, and you'd think he had paid her the prettiest compliment she had ever heard.
Dorcas Hill was no lady in distress. She was plain, handsome sometimes, but she was womanly. She played tennis, golf and badminton like a man but she had a woman's way of nursing a sick puppy, making a man feel comfortable and having another woman trust her.
She chauffeured for her father, Dr. Hill, kept house for the doctor and her mother, headed the newly-founded chapter of the Junior League, found time to serve on charity boards and enjoyed her life to its limits.
For a year now, there had been Bill Boyd and the good times they shared. And the parallel lines of their lives slowly were converging toward a happy ending.
She thought of that with quiet contentment as they stood shoulder to shoulder that night watching the harvest moon rise red and beautiful in the October sky.
Allie Carey didn't see it.
Coming home on that October night, her eyes groped through the dimness of the hall in her apartment house to the table where the mail was tossed. She saw what she had been seeking, a telegram.
Her fingers shook and something in her quaked as she tore the yellow envelope.
She read:
SHOWED YOUR LETTER TO MAE ALEXANDER STOP SHE THINKS IT'S A GREAT OPPORTUNITY FOR HER BUT IS EMBARRASSED TO OFFER YOU SMALL SALARY STOP IF YOU MEAN IT YOU CAN HAVE JOB AT EIGHTEEN A WEEK STOP THINK IT OVER STOP AFFECTIONATELY BILL.

Dinner Stories

PLAYING SAFE!
"How many in your family, lady?"
"Just my husband and I."
"No children?"
"No."
"Any cats or dogs?"
"No, sir."
"Do you have a radio?"
"No."
"Now, have you any musical instruments?"
"Indeed not. And why, if I may ask, all the questions? Is the government taking another census?"
"No lady. I'm not a census enumerator. I'm just the man who intends to rent the house next door."
WILLING TO WAIT
Jones was a shoemaker. By dint of hard saving he had managed to send his son Billy to a good school. One afternoon Billy came into the shop.
"Father," he demanded, "I want $125 to go to the movie."
"What!" cried Jones. "Do you realize that I've got to sole and heel three pairs of shoes to make $125?"
Billy sat down comfortably in a chair.
"All right, father," he said. "I'll wait."

Complaining Witness Jailed
TOLEDO (UP)—Arthur Panlaspolis, of Cambridge, Mass., told police he lost $112 in a dice game. Police arrested the three men he named as winners of his money, then released them on bond. Panlaspolis, however, couldn't provide a bond, so he was jailed to assure his presence as a complaining witness.

The farm sale of Mrs. Mary Jester held Wednesday was well attended and good prices prevailed.
Several from this community attended the sales of Joseph Nye near Chillicothe on Tuesday and Wednesday. The ladies of the Dry Run church served lunch.
Mrs. Charles Voss entertained the Ladies Aid of Maple Grove church at her home near Asbury Tuesday.
The local teachers will attend the county teachers meeting at Zourenville Thursday. Schools were dismissed at three o'clock that they might reach there in time.
Mrs. Wendell Ater and son, Jerry have been guests of Mrs. Ater's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nangle in Chillicothe a few days this week.
Mrs. Sallie Donohue entertained at a six o'clock dinner Wednesday Rev. and Mrs. G. C. Reed and children, Barbara Rosberry and Ralph Reed, Miss Ollie Ater, William Ater and P. B. Timmons.
Local teachers plan to attend the state meeting in Columbus next Friday and Saturday.
The enthusiasm of the usual attenders at the Great Pumpkin Show at Circleville has been somewhat dampened this year by the gloomy weather but many have found their way to Pickaway's capital each day and many have remained until late in the night. It takes more than bad weather to keep our people away from this big event.
The Parent-Teacher Association will meet Monday evening at the school building. The band will play the 5th and 6th grades will furnish vocal music and G. D. McDowell, superintendent of the Pickaway county schools will speak.
The program will start at eight o'clock. Everyone is invited and an opportunity will be given to meet the new teachers.

Stylish Skirts Are Short, Hats High

Your Frock May Be Flared Vivaciously or Trim and Pencil Slim to Hug the Figure

Verdigris green wool suit, with distinctively marked baronduki revers, brown felt hat, brown kidskin tongs oxford.

By LISBETH

Short skirts and high hats are the order of the day. Your skirt may be very short and flared if you are young and slim, or pencil slim, with slits at the side for ease in walking. Or the flare or the straight slimmest may both be modified if you have passed that very slender stage.

If you can't wear a hat that has a tall crown, at least you can add a tall bit of trimming to give that "high hat" look. Some of the perky bows, and especially quilts, that trim feminine headgear will undoubtedly cause some discomfort and possibly tears to escorts who are just the right height to get them in their eyes; but after all, what's a poke in the face between friends? One must suffer somewhat if the girl friend is to be son, George, are here for the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George G. Adkins, and Mrs. J. M. Morris, E. Union street.

Miss Margaret Adkins, of Medina is home for the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Adkins, E. Main street.

Mrs. Jack Hedges and children, Jacqueline and John, of Columbus, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Hedges, N. Pickaway street.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Drum of Lima and Mr. and Mrs. James Drum of Canton are Pumpkin show guests at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Drum, N. Court street.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Heibel of Cleveland is a Pumpkin Show guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Howell, Elm avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. William Peppercorn of Cincinnati, who have been the guests of Mrs. Abbie Gussman, E. Franklin street, returned to their home, Thursday.

Mrs. Gardner Duffey, Mrs. O. W. Fellows and Mrs. George Todd and daughter, Marie, all of Columbus, visited friends in Circleville Thursday.

Mrs. Dora MacFarland, of Santiago, Texas, and her sister, Mrs. J. W. Richardson, of Dayton, are the guests this week of their aunt, Mrs. J. W. Rowe, and George and Miss Nellie Denman, E. Franklin street. Mrs. MacFarland and Mrs. Richardson were formerly the Misses Dora and Della Greist, residents of this city.

Miss Elizabeth Hogsett, of Hillsboro, was an over-night guest of Miss Katherine Bockart, N. Court street, and attended the Pumpkin Show, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Orren Udyke, of Circleville township, will have for their week-end guests Miss Elsie Udyke and friend, Miss Alice Tobias, of Ohio University, Athens, Miss Orpha B. Crowley, of Columbus, and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Elliott and son, Bobby, of Cincinnati.

Mrs. Eugene Hall, of Columbus, visited Mrs. Clara Renick, Friday, and assisted in judging the babies in the baby parade.

of the Directoire period suggested the interesting back treatment given the costume suit. Verdigris green wool is crisply handled in the slim dress, which is tricked out with patch pockets and a bow-trimmed collar. The jacket is well fitted, with revers of distinctively marked baronduki.

Coronation Influence

Schiaparelli's "crown" hat, influenced, doubtless, by the coming British coronation, is shown here in fine brown felt, and the tongue oxford are of brown kidskin. The pull-on gloves are, of course, brown.

Talk about going high hat! Look at the feather trimming on the smart little chapeau on the lady in the center of our picture. Moulded contours and swinging skirts were triumphs of the recent Paris openings. This crepe frock, of a new shade of blue called spruce, combines both silhouettes. The bodice is neatly fitted, with a soft plastron edged with pleating, repeated again at the hem of the fluidly graceful skirt.

Stitched black kidskin sandals are distinguished for their simplicity and formal air. The tiny black felt hats burst skyward with its towering blue feather. A

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Herb and Mrs. Ida Edwards, of Lithopolis, were the Pumpkin Show guests of Miss Josephine Bartley, E. Main street, Friday. Mrs. Edwards was librarian for several years at Wagnall's Memorial.

Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Butt and son Charles, and Mrs. Elizabeth Cummins, all of Nelsonville, are the Pumpkin Show guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Hammel, N. Court street. Mrs. Butt is a sister, and Mrs. Cummins a sister-in-law of Mrs. Hammel.

Mrs. Charles Reichelderfer, son Charles and daughters, Mrs. Ruth Pickens, and Misses Marie and Anne Reichelderfer, all of Columbus, visited at the home of Mrs. Ira Reichelderfer, N. Court street, Friday, and attended the Pumpkin Show.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gilliland, of Pinckney street, are having as their week-end guests, Mr. Gilliland's mother, Mrs. E. B. Gilliland, Mrs. Myrtle Drake, Mrs. Arthur Ferriek and children Junior, Edward, Carol and Mary Lucile, all of Van Wert.

brooch clasps the neck of the dress.

Grape Shades Chic
Vintage shades give richness and interest to the autumn mode. Grape-purple ribbed crepe makes the frock at the right, spiced by Burgundy red suede piping and suede belt. A clever band conceals the fact that the dress buttons conveniently down the front, while the broad shoulders and flare-front skirt are further points of distinction.

Burgundy antelope makes the French revolutionary cap, and the smart round-toed Regent pumps are of Burgundy kidskin.

An interesting little style whimsy is that strings of gold beads are being worn with woolen frocks. Page those mother were a couple of decades back!

MAPLE NUT ICE CREAM
One pint of milk
One-half cup granulated sugar
One-half cup brown sugar
One-eighth teaspoon salt
Two teaspoons cornstarch
Two eggs
One-half pint whipping cream
One-half cup pecans
One teaspoon vanilla
One-fourth teaspoon mapleine

Make a custard with milk, sugar, egg yolks, cornstarch and salt. Let cool. Whip the cream, fold into custard. Beat egg whites until stiff and cut the pecans into small pieces and add to the egg whites with the flavoring. Pour into freezing tray and freeze in refrigerator. Does not require stirring.

CRANBERRY SALAD

Cook one quart of cranberries in three and one-half cups of water for thirty minutes. Soak two tablespoons of gelatin in one-half cup of cold water. Strain the cranberry mixture over it and stir until dissolved. Add two tablespoons of sugar (or more if you prefer). Let stand until cold, then add one cup of chopped nut meats, one cup of diced pineapple and one cup of seeded white grapes. Pour into a wet mold and chill over-night. Serve on crisp lettuce leaves with mayonnaise. This makes a delightful tart salad to serve with fowl.

THEATRES

AT THE CLIFTONA

Walter Huston and Ruth Chatterton head the cast of Samuel Goldwyn's screen version of Sinclair Lewis' "Dodsworth," which comes to the Cliftona Theatre for three days Sunday.

Huston again plays the title role of Sam Dodsworth, the easy-going American husband, in which he scored on the stage for more than two years, and Miss Chatterton has the role of Fran, the pretty, frivolous, selfish wife whom he adores.

Great Cast
Sidney Howard, who wrote the stage adaption is again author of the screenplay, which is enacted by a great supporting cast including Paul Lukas, Mary Astor, David Niven, Marie Ouspenskaya, Gregory Gaye, Odette Myrtil, Kathryn Marlowe, John Payne, Spring Byington, and Harlan Briggs. Miss Ouspenskaya and Gregory Gaye repeat the roles they created in the stage version.

The story opens when hard-working, successful Sam Dodsworth retires to travel and enjoy his first taste of leisure. But to his wife, Fran, Europe means one last fling at romance before settling down to middle-age.

millionaire's son and a personal maid?

That's the romantic question propounded in the Fox hit "Private Number," opening Sunday at the Grand Theatre with Robert Taylor and Loretta Young started together for the first time as a screen love-team.

Filled with youthful love-making, gay romancing, and vivacious drama highlighted with hilarious comedy by the irrepressible Patsy Kelly, "Private Number" is said to be the year's outstanding romantic hit.

Robert Taylor, only son of the wealthy Winfield family, returns home from college and mistakes Loretta Young, his mother's maid, for a house guest. He refuses to permit her to explain her situation and this first chance meeting is the keystone of a romance which culminates when the family go to Maine for the summer.

Miss Young has accompanied Mrs. Winfield, and the small confines of the summer resort result in Taylor and the girl being thrown together constantly. One moonlit night, while riding in Taylor's motorboat, they decide to get married.

AT THE CIRCLE

The film version of Willard Mack's famous stage melodrama, "The Drag Net," opens Sunday at the Circle Theatre. This startling expose of how the underworld frequently employs successfully go-betweens and "fixers" with the municipal authorities of great cities is laden with resonant thrills, moves at lightning speed and crashes into a terrific climax. Rod La Rocque, Marian Nixon, Betty Compson, Jack Adair, John Dilson and Edward Keane are featured.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

COCKEYED STRATEGY

THE GREAT weakness of every highly developed system of bidding is its red tape, binding its followers to follow minor rules, rather than observe a few fundamental laws and then using their heads to better purpose for details. The other evening five out of seven players sitting South, passed, instead of bidding 1-Spade, as a result, those five players found the hand passed out. One South player and his partner bid only to three, but made four. The other South player and his partner bid 4-Spades and made an extra trick for top, through excellent strategy.

At the top score table bidding went: South, 1-Spade; West, 2-Clubs; North, 2-Spades; South, 3-Spades; North, 4-Spades, which was going strong.

The opening lead was the 10 of hearts. East's Ace won. The J of clubs was led through South. His Ace won. Of course he did not know what had happened at other tables, and he was out for top score. Confident that West had not led a singleton heart, declarer led his K of hearts, then his K of spades. The fifth trick went to dummy's Ace of spades, dropping all defensive trumps.

A third round of hearts was led. East played the Q. Declarer ruffed, leaving two long hearts in dummy, as West's 9 also fell. Dummy was put in lead with its 10 of spades. Both good hearts were led. On the first one declarer let go his last club, insuring no loss in that suit. On the last heart from dummy a low diamond was discarded by declarer. Now he felt safe, even if West held both Ace and Q of diamonds.

The J of diamonds was led. East's Q and declarer's K covered. West's Ace won the second defensive trick, but that was all his side could win. West led the K of clubs, but declarer ruffed with his last trump. Dummy's 10 of diamonds won the next trick and its long trump won the thirteenth trick. The strategy displayed by this South player, both in bidding and playing his cards was admirable, in strong contrast to the strategy of the five who passed. Also a decided improvement in play over the other South player who bid spades.

The five South players who declined to open the bidding had an odd reason for doing so. They stated that they did not open as dealer upon less than 3 quick tricks and a 5-card suit. If the K-J of hearts did not stand 8 in 9 chances of being the equal of an Ace, their reason might sound more logical.

DINOSAUR BONES FOUND

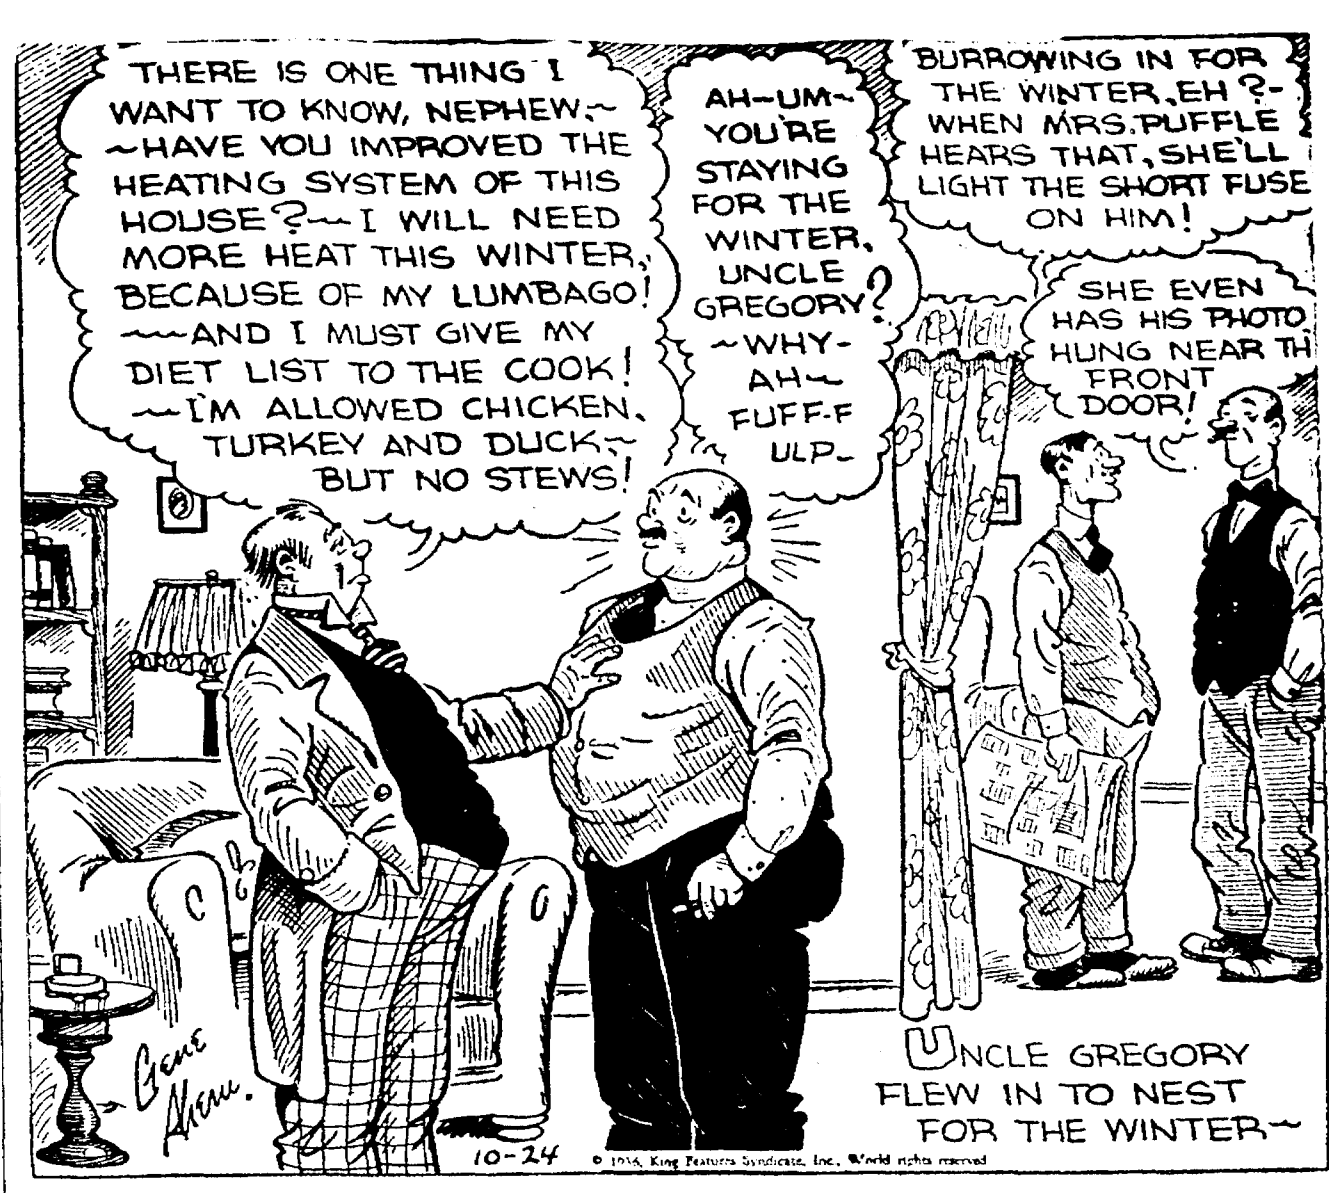

FORT PECK, Mont. (UP)—A well preserved skeleton of a three-horned dinosaur has been discovered here and is being gradually excavated. It appears to have been 9 feet high and 36 feet long. Experts estimate it lived about 50,000,000 years before the present complexities of modern life.

CHEF SCORNS FIERY ROOF

SAN RAFAEL, Cal. (UP)—When the roof of John Knecht's famous inn on Mt. Tamapais caught fire he refused to permit the firemen to put it out till he had finished the roast he was cooking. He argued it meant more to him to feed his guests than to lose his roof.
